Stringer A Reporters Journey In The Congo By Anjan Sundaram:

Stringer Anjan Sundaram,2024-11-30 Stringer is an account of a year and a half that Sundaram spent in the country working for the Associated Press It was an intense period that would take him deep into the shadowy city of Kinshasa the dense rainforests that still evoke Conrad s vision and the heart of Africa s great war culminating in the historic and violent multiparty elections of 2006 Along the way he would go on a joyride with Kinshasa s feral children fend off its women desperate for an escape route and travel with an Indian businessman hunting for his fortune Written with startling beauty and acuity Stringer is a superb piece of reportage It marks the debut of a breathtaking new talent Bad News Anjan Sundaram,2016-01-12 The author of the acclaimed Stringer A Reporter s Journey in the Congo now moves on to Rwanda for a gripping look at a country caught still in political and social unrest years after the genocide that shocked the world Bad News is the story of Anjan Sundaram s time running a journalist s training program out of Kigali the capital city of one of Africa s most densely populated countries Rwanda President Kagame s regime which seized power after the genocide that ravaged its population in 1994 is often held up as a beacon for progress and modernity in Central Africa and is the recipient of billions of dollars each year in aid from Western governments and international organizations Lurking underneath this shining vision of a modern orderly state however is the powerful climate of fear springing from the government s brutal treatment of any voice of dissent You can t look and write a policeman ominously tells Sundaram as he takes notes at a political rally In Rwanda the testimony of the individual the evidence of one s own experience is crushed by the pens e unique the single way of thinking and speaking proscribed by those in power A vivid portrait of a country at an extraordinary and dangerous place in its history Bad News is a brilliant and urgent parable on freedom of expression and what happens when that power is seized Breakup Anjan Sundaram,2023-08-02 After ten years of reporting from central Africa for The New York Times Associated Press and others Anjan Sundaram finds himself living a quiet life in Shippagan Canada with his wife and newborn But when word arrives of preparations for ethnic cleansing in the Central African Republic he is suddenly torn between his duty as a husband and father and his moral responsibility to report on a conflict unseen by the world Soon he is traveling through the CAR with a driver who may be a spy bearing witness to ransacked villages and locals fleeing imminent massacre fielding offers of mined gold and hearing stories of soldiers who steal schoolbooks for rolling paper When he refuses to return home journeying instead into a rebel stronghold he learns that there is no going back to the life he left behind Breakup illuminates the personal price that war correspondents pay as they bear witness on the frontlines of humanitarian crimes across the world This brilliantly introspective grounded account of one man s inner turmoil in the context of a dangerous journey through a warzone is sure to become a modern classic Congoism Johnny Van Hove,2017-10-04 To justify the plundering of today s Democratic Republic of the Congo U S intellectual elites have continuously produced dismissive Congo discourses Tracing these discourses in great depth and breadth for the first time

Johnny Van Hove shows how U S intellectuals and their influential European counterparts have been using the Congo in similar fashions for their own goals Analyzing intellectuals as diverse as W E B Du Bois Joseph Conrad and David Van Reybrouck the book offers a theorization of Central West Africa a case study of normalized narratives on the Other and a stirring wake up call for all contemporary writers on international history and politics The Road Through War Anjan Sundaram,2016-01-26 A Vintage Shorts Travel Selection I arrived to find that this was a war of walkers So writes Anjan Sundaram about his journey into the heart of the war torn Central African Republic in 2013 As soon as he arrived in the city of Gaga he witnessed hundreds of people fleeing their homes for parts unknown afraid to be one of the many victims of the Seleka rebel force that had taken over the country that year or the anti balaka militias that had sprung up in retaliation As Sundaram follows a jungle path from village to village he provides witness to a burning Republic one that is still in the grips of chaos and violence An eBook short Communication and Conflict Transformation through Local, Regional, and Global Engagement Peter M. Kellett,Thomas G. Matyók,2016-12-13 Central to a transformational approach to conflict is the idea that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures and must be addressed as such This implies the need for systemic change at generative levels in order to create genuine transformation at the level of particular conflicts Central also to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary or situational small scale or micro level as well as bigger and more systemic or macro level Micro level changes involve shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Such transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inwards to more micro levels This book engages this transformative framework Within this framework this book pulls together current work that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in local community regional environmental and global conflicts in various parts of the world The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and experiences from the field of practice The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches as well as transformative techniques and processes including narrative dialogic critical cultural linguistic conversation analytic discourse analytic and rhetorical This book makes a valuable contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines and people on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically Handbook of Journalism and Media: India, Bharat, Hindustan Reddy, Kovuuri G.,2015 The aim of this book is to familiarize the readers with topics that make news with the subjects that invariably draw the attention of the journalists because they may matter to the audience and with the themes that are newsworthy and recurring The book explains those words that could be confusing and which are utterly Indian or may not echo all over the country The book is useful for student journalists and media professionals for those whose interests or careers are closely related with journalism media and public relations and for those who want to know and report on India or from Bharat or out of Hindustan KEY FEATURES Highly useful and informative Covers all platforms of journalism and media newspapers magazines radio television and Internet A Journalism and Media Calendar at the end Reference to news items published in real newspapers websites Media and Mass Atrocity Allan Thompson, 2019-04-05 When human beings are at their worst as they most certainly were in Rwanda during the 1994 genocide the world needs the institutions of journalism and the media to be at their best Sadly in Rwanda the media fell short Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the case of Rwanda but also examines how the nexus between media and mass atrocity has been shaped by the dramatic rise of social media It has been twenty five years since Rwanda slid into the abyss The killings happened in broad daylight but many of us turned away A quarter century later there is still much to learn about the relationship between the media and genocide an issue laid bare by the Rwanda tragedy Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the debate over the role of traditional news media in Rwanda where confronted by the horrors taking place international news media for the most part turned away and at times muddled the story when they did pay attention Hate media outlets in Rwanda played a role in laying the groundwork for genocide and then actively encouraged the extermination campaign The news media not only failed to fully grasp and communicate the genocide but mostly overlooked the war crimes committed during the genocide and in its aftermath by the Rwandan Patriotic Front The global media landscape has been transformed since Rwanda We are now saturated with social media generated as often as not by non journalists Mobile phones are everywhere And in many quarters the traditional news media business model continues to recede Against that backdrop it is more important than ever to examine the nexus between media and mass atrocity The book includes an extensive section on the echoes of Rwanda which looks at the cases of Darfur the Central African Republic Myanmar and South Sudan while the impact of social media as a new actor is examined through chapters on social media use by the Islamic State and in Syria and in other contexts across the developing world It also looks at the aftermath of the genocide the shifting narrative of the genocide itself the evolving debate over the role and impact of hate media in Rwanda the challenge of digitizing archival records of the genocide and the fostering of free and independent media in atrocity's wake The volume also probes how journalists themselves confront mass atrocity and examines the preventive function of media through the use of advanced digital technology as well as radio programming in the Lake Chad Basin and the Democratic Republic of Congo Media and Mass Atrocity questions what the lessons of Rwanda mean now in an age of communications so dramatically influenced by social media and the relative decline of traditional news media Refractive Africa Will Alexander, 2021-11-02 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize Winner of the California Book Award in Poetry Three kinetically distilled long poems by the singular American poet who transfigures thought into a weave of lexical magic Philip Lamantia The poet is endemic with life itself Will Alexander once said and in this searing pas de trois Refractive Africa Ballet of the Forgotten he has exemplified this vital candescence with a transpersonal amplification worthy of the Cambrian explosion This being the ballet of the forgotten he writes as diasporic witness of refracted boundary points as venom The volume s opening poem pays homage to the innovative Nigerian Yoruban author Amos Tutuola it ends with an encomium to the modernist Malagasy poet Jean Joseph Rabearivelo two writers whose luminous art suffered colonial wrath through refraction A tribute to the Congo forms the bridge and bris vole of the book the Congo as charged aural colony and primal interconnection a subliminal psychic force with a colonial and postcolonial history dominated by the Occident Will Alexander s improvisatory cosmicity pushes poetic language to the point of most resistance incantatory and swirling with magical laterality and recovery Little Red Barns Will Potter,2025-07-08

We are in a fight for our lives against a rising authoritarian tide and this clear eyed compelling clarion call of a book has a message everyone needs to hear Astra Taylor author of Democracy May Not Exist but We ll Miss It When It s Gone Behind the little red barns dotting the landscape and decorating so many of the products we consume is a dangerous threat This groundbreaking investigation exposes the powerful forces at work to hide the harms of industrial agriculture its outsize role in the climate crisis and its links to the global rise of fascism Little Red Barns is the record of a harrowing journey that took investigative journalist Will Potter from factory farms to international climate summits from Congressional hearings to neo Nazi fascist groups As Potter uncovers the frightening truth about animal agriculture s role in accelerating climate collapse he shows how the authoritarian measures being taken to maintain control over this key aspect of the global food supply chain are directly linked to the proliferation and empowerment of far right militias Confronting a maelstrom of disturbing information he asks searching questions about a journalist s role in the 21st century and the impact of bearing witness in a world in which we are bombarded with news both real and faked Reading Radio 4 Macdonald Daly,2016-12-01 This book is a study of contemporary Radio 4 output covering the entire broadcast day Radio is largely neglected by media and cultural studies The small body of existing work on Radio 4 is predominantly historical focusing on institutional history or sociological focusing on contemporary BBC editorial and journalistic practices Reading Radio 4 by contrast analyses contemporary Radio 4 programmes entirely from the point of view of today s listener Individual chapters correspond to all existing Radio 4 timeslots in the entire broadcast day of 19 hours 40 minutes from 5 20am to 1 00am The study while academic in approach aims to promote an informed and critical appreciation of Radio 4 for all listeners as well as students of the media

Breakup Anjan Sundaram,2023-05-11 After ten years of reporting from central Africa for The New York Times Associated Press and others award winning journalist Anjan Sundaram finds himself living a quiet life in Shippagan Canada with his wife and new born But when word arrives of preparations for a genocide in the Central African Republic he is suddenly torn between his duty as a husband and father and his moral responsibility to report on a conflict unseen by the world Soon he is traveling through the CAR with a driver who may be a spy bearing witness to ransacked villages and locals fleeing imminent massacre fielding offers of mined gold and hearing stories of soldiers who steal schoolbooks for cigarette paper When he refuses to return home journeying instead into a rebel stronghold he learns that there is no going back to the life he left behind Breakup illuminates the personal price that war correspondents pay as they bear witness on the frontlines of humanitarian crimes across the world This brilliantly introspective grounded account of one man s inner turmoil in the context of a dangerous journey through a warzone is sure to become a modern classic Africa's Media Image in the 21st Century Mel Bunce,Suzanne Franks,Chris Paterson,2016-07-01 Africa s Media Image in the 21st Century is the first book in over twenty years to examine the international media s coverage of sub Saharan Africa It brings together leading researchers and prominent journalists to explore representation of the continent and the production of that image especially by international news media The book highlights factors that have transformed the global media system changing whose perspectives are told and the forms of media that empower new voices Case studies consider questions such as how has new media changed whose views are represented Does Chinese or diaspora media offer alternative perspectives for viewing the continent How do foreign correspondents interact with their audiences in a social media age What is the contemporary role of charity groups and PR firms in shaping news content They also examine how recent high profile events and issues been covered by the international media from the Ebola crisis and Boko Haram to debates surrounding the Africa Rising narrative and neo imperialism The book makes a substantial contribution by moving the academic discussion beyond the traditional critiques of journalistic stereotyping Afro pessimism and darkest Africa news coverage It explores the news outlets international power dynamics and technologies that shape and reshape the contemporary image of Africa and Africans in journalism and global culture Granta 167 Thomas Meaney,2024-04-25 From freemining in the Forest of Dean to the policies underpinning the green transition the history of energy in Israel to the repressed desires behind boredom the spring issue of Granta examines a practice as old as human history Extraction With reportage from James Pogue and Anjan Sundaram and pieces from Thea Riofrancos Laleh Khalili Nuar Alsadir among others the non fiction in this issue moves across time and place to uncover the confrontations that break out in the face of extraction Fiction follows a similar theme and the issue also includes a new story from Camilla Grudova featuring a clinic where patients learn to physically expel their unrequited desires as well as stories by Rachel Kushner Benjamin Kunkel Carlos Fonseca Christian Lorentzen and Eka Kurniawan Granta 129 Sigrid Rausing,2014-10-24 Granta 129 brings you twenty two meditations on fate in all its many forms From Joseph Roth s reflection on Sarajevo in the wake of the First World War to Cynthia Ozick s exploration of the limits of belief this issue stretches our understanding of fate both in fact and in fiction Striking the keys of the same typewriter that once sat under J G Ballard s fingers Will Self reimagines the legendary writer s last days Mark Gevisser investigates transgender identities in America Louise Erdrich presents a world where bodies can be traded in for a digital afterlife In an extract from her forthcoming novel Miranda July describes the awkward dynamics between an uptight office worker her love interest and a disruptive twenty year old Fatima Bhutto depicts the mounting of tensions between Christian and Muslim families in a remote valley in Pakistan and Granta s Best of Young British Novelist Helen Oyeyemi charts a
