Student Centred Learning In Uganda The Mwalimu Open Educational Resource:

Student Centred Learning in Uganda John Byabazaire, Benedict Oyo, 2014-12-09 Models of providing quality education to poor students are becoming extinct This book presents results of successful development and deployment of the Mwalimu Open Educational Resource As the name suggests Mwalimu Teacher is an online platform that performs all activities expected of a real teacher This book presents Mwalimu as a new platform for student centred learning in Uganda whereby students do not only access available content but also contribute to the content pool under the principle of crowdsourcing The content is structured under four areas including notes video lessons questions and answers and examinations and solutions The examinations space is exclusive to the subject consultants while the rest of the content is sourced from the crowd The subject consultants also ensure that the crowdsourced content conform to the national curriculum requirements In effect the volume of content is the responsibility of the crowd while its quality is the responsibility of the subject consultants The Mwalimu resource therefore enables poor schools to improve their academic performance despite their inability to afford highly qualified and experienced teachers New African ,1989 Yearbook of International Organizations, 2013-2014 (Volume 2) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2013-06-21 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Volume 2 allows users to locate organizations by the country in which secretariats or members are located East Africa and Rhodesia ,1963

Annuaire Des Organisations Internationales , Improving Learning In Uganda, Volume 3 Innocent Mulindwa Najjumba, Charles Lwanga Bunjo, 2013-03-05 Uganda is one of the few African countries with a functional national assessment system Established in 2003 the National Assessment of Progress in Education NAPE Program is executed by the Uganda National Examination Board UNEB The program uses a learning outcomes measurement framework to annually measure achievement in literacy and numeracy proficiency on the basis of a cross sectional nationally representative sample of learners from the primary three P3 and primary six P6 grades In 2008 the framework was extended to the senior two S2 grade of lower secondary education for English math and biology However use of national assessment results to inform improvements in student learning remains weak These data can nevertheless be used to search for solutions to the challenge of low quality education in Uganda The objective of this study is to generate a comprehensive consolidated evidence base about student learning outcomes and teacher effectiveness in primary and secondary schools Uganda grounded in existing nationally owned NAPE assessment data In specific terms this analytical work attempts to establish the following a the performance levels and patterns of students in P3 P6 and S2 b problematic curriculum areas in the respective grades c teacher competency and d predictors of student and teacher performance levels The goal is not to reanalyze existing data but rather provide additional analysis that can help complement the very useful summary reports provided by NAPE for individual years This analysis is also supported by findings from the qualitative end of cycle EOC curriculum examination reports generated by UNEB chief examiners Improving Learning In Uganda, Volume 2 Innocent Mulindwa

Najjumba, Jeffery H. Marshall, 2013-03-14 This book attempts to answer a what are the learning areas of the curriculum that are most difficult for students and teachers b How much do teachers know about the curriculum they teach c Why do some students perform better than others And why do some teachers know more about what they teach than others
