Leaders Have to Have is a professional toolbox for aspiring as well as experienced school administrators and teacher leaders or any educator who cares about meeting the needs of today's student learner. How to address difficult issues in a leadership role for example is presented in a realistic perspective through real life examples vignettes and personal reflections that come not only from the authors themselves but also from school leaders currently in the field. These proven strategies bring credibility to the authors' work. It is a practical guide that can help school leaders stay on the forefront of success in their schools. Linda Pincham, Associate Professor, Roosevelt University, Chicago, IL. This book is timely, practical and clearly anchored in the rich leadership and coaching experiences of the writers. This book is a must read for all leaders and aspiring leaders at the building and central office level. This book will also be useful at the university level where new leaders are being prepared and inspired. Lynda C. Wood, Ed.D., Retired Superintendent, Southfield Public School District, Southfield, MI.

Breaking the Culture of Bullying and Disrespect, Grades K-8 Marie-Nathalie Beaudoin, Maureen Taylor, 2004-01-20. Even in primary school, students suffer from bullying, aggression and harassment at the hands of other students. Teachers and Headteachers deal with incidents of disrespect day in and day out, taking valuable time and energy away from instruction and forcing teachers into the role of disciplinarian. Often teachers and other educators resort to using stricter forms of control and behavior modification to stop bullying, but usually this doesn't solve the problem and also threatens the student-teacher relationship. The fact is, students don't want to be bullies, but for many, they feel it's their only option in a given situation. By first understanding students' experiences, teachers and other educators can help students discover other options for dealing with problematic situations that avoid bullying, aggression and harassment. The authors provide ideas, strategies and activities that promote respect, responsibility and tolerance. The authors, a school psychologist and an elementary school teacher, interviewed dozens of students and educators and have tested their strategies in dozens of schools. The book includes numerous easy-to-implement activities along with programs and curricula appropriate for working with individual students, classes and whole schools. This accessible and jargon-free resource includes first-person quotes from students and teachers, successful stories of students overcoming problems of bullying and disrespect, frequently asked questions, reflective questions, examples of student work and a glossary. ... Thomas Jefferson and the University of Virginia Herbert Baxter Adams, 1888.
