Struggles For Representation:

Struggles for Representation Phyllis Rauch Klotman, Janet K. Cutler, 1999 Struggles for Representation examines over 300 non fiction films by more than 150 African American film videomakers and includes an extensive filmography bibliography and excerpts from interviews with film videomakers In eleven original essays contributors explore the extraordinary scope of these aesthetic and social documents and chart a previously undiscovered territory documentaries that examine the aesthetic economic historical political and social forces that shape the lives of black Americans as seen from their perspectives Until now scholars and critics have concentrated on black fiction film and on mainstream non fiction films neglecting the groundbreaking body of black non fiction productions that offer privileged views of American life Yet these rich and varied works in film video and new electronic media convey vast stores of knowledge and experience Although most documentary cannot hope to match fiction film s mass appeal it is unrivaled in its ability to portray searing indelible impressions of black life including concrete views of significant events and moving portraits of charismatic individuals Documentary footage brings audiences the moments when civil rights protestors were attacked by state troopers it provides the sights and sounds of Malcom X delivering an electrifying speech Betty Carter performing a heart wrenching song and Langston Hughes strolling on a beach Uniting all of this work is the struggle for representation that characterizes each film an urgent desire to convey black life in ways that counter the uninformed and often distorted representations of mass media film and television productions African American documentaries have long been associated with struggles for social and political empowerment for many film videomakers documentary is a compelling mode with which to present an alternative more authentic narrative of black experiences and an effective critique of mainstream discourse Thus many socially and politically committed film videomakers view documentary as a tool with which to interrogate and reinvent history their works fill gaps correct errors and expose distortions in order to provide counter narratives of African American experience Contributors include Paul Arthur Houston A Baker Jr Mark F Baker Pearl Bowser Janet K Cutler Manthia Diawara Elizabeth Amelia Hadley Phyllis R Klotman Tommy Lee Lott Erika Muhammad Valerie Smith and Clyde Taylor

Representation in Scientific Practice Revisited Catelijne Coopmans, Janet Vertesi, Michael E. Lynch, Steve Woolgar, 2014-01-03 A fresh approach to visualization practices in the sciences that considers novel forms of imaging technology and draws on recent theoretical perspectives on representation Representation in Scientific Practice published by the MIT Press in 1990 helped coalesce a long standing interest in scientific visualization among historians philosophers and sociologists of science and remains a touchstone for current investigations in science and technology studies This volume revisits the topic taking into account both the changing conceptual landscape of STS and the emergence of new imaging technologies in scientific practice It offers cutting edge research on a broad array of fields that study information as well as short reflections on the evolution of the field by leading scholars including some of the contributors to the 1990 volume The essays consider the ways in which viewing experiences are crafted in the digital era the embodied nature of work with digital technologies the constitutive role of materials and technologies from chalkboards to brain scans in the production of new scientific knowledge the metaphors and images mobilized by communities of practice and the status and significance of scientific imagery in professional and popular culture Contributors Morana Ala Michael Barany Anne Beaulieu Annamaria Carusi Catelijne Coopmans Lorraine Daston Sarah de Rijcke Joseph Dumit Emma Frow Yann Giraud Aud Sissel Hoel Martin Kemp Bruno Latour John Law Michael Lynch Donald MacKenzie Cyrus Mody Natasha Myers Rachel Prentice Arie Rip Martin Ruivenkamp Lucy Suchman Janet Vertesi Steve Woolgar Watching Race Herman Gray,2004 With a new introduction Herman Gray s classic investigation of television and race shows how the meaning of blackness on screen has changed over the years by examining the portrayal of blacks on series such as The Jack Benny Show and Amos n Andy continuing through The Cosby Show and In Living Color BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Struggles for Belonging Dieter Gosewinkel,2021 This book recounts the history of citizenship in 20th century Europe focussing on six countries Great Britain France Germany Czechoslovakia Poland and Russia It is the history of a central legal institution that significantly represents and at the same time determines struggles over migration integration and belonging

The Politics of Citizenship in Indonesia Eric Hiariiej,Kristian Stokke,2022-02-10 This book highlights the gains that a citizenship approach offers to the study of democracy in Indonesia demonstrating that the struggle for citizenship and the historical development of democracy in the country are closely interwoven The book arises from a research agenda aiming to help Indonesia s democracy activists by unpacking citizenship as it is produced and practiced through movements against injustice taking the shape of struggles by people at grassroots levels for cultural recognition social and economic injustice and popular representation Such struggles in Indonesia have engaged with the state through both discursive and non discursive processes The authors show that while the state is the common focal point these struggles are fragmented across different sectors and subject positions The authors thus propose that developing chains of solidarity is highly important to motivating a democracy that not only has sovereign control over public affairs but also robust channels and organisations for political representation In advocating the development of transformative agendas organisations and strategies as an important need and an enduring challenge for the realization of citizenship this book is timely and relevant to the study of contemporary Indonesia s socio political landscape It is relevant to students and scholars in political science anthropology sociology human geography and development studies Authority and the Globalisation of Inclusion and Exclusion

Hans Lindahl,2018-09-06 Protracted and bitter resistance by alter and anti globalisation movements shows that the globalisation of law transpires as the globalisation of inclusion and exclusion Humanity is inside and outside global law in all its possible manifestations But how is this possible How must legal orders be structured such that even if we can now speak of law beyond state borders no emergent global legal order is possible that does not include without excluding Is an authoritative politics of boundaries possible that neither postulates the possibility of realising an all inclusive global legal order nor accepts resignation or political paralysis in the face of the globalisation of inclusion and exclusion These pressing questions guide this book opening up a vast field of enquiry that demands integrating sociological doctrinal and philosophical perspectives and insights Rethinking Popular Representation O. Törnquist,N. Webster,K. Stokke,2009-12-21 This book starts out from the deep concern with contemporary tendencies towards depoliticisation of public issues and popular interests and makes a case for rethinking more democratic popular representation It outlines a framework for popular representation examines key issues and experiences and provides a policy oriented conclusion Politics of Documentary

Michael Chanan,2019-07-25 This wide ranging study traces the history of the documentary from the first Lumiere films to Michael Moore s Fahrenheit 9 11 Chanan argues that documentary makes a vital contribution to the public sphere where ideas are debated opinion formed and those in authority are held to account The Edges of Political Representation

Mihnea Tănăsescu,Claire Dupont,2021-05-07 The concept of political representation has expanded beyond the classical relationship between representative and the represented to encompass advocacy group identities non human voices future generations non democratic systems symbols virtual representation and broader interests As such literature on political representation stems from a wide range of viewpoints and scholarly traditions with different norms and assumptions built in This volume aims to map and critique the edges of political representation By moving from a discussion in the classical electoral literature through feminist perspectives to different levels of representation different understandings of who is represented and onto empirical studies of symbolic and virtual representation through participation the contributions in this book provide a nuanced assessment while also presenting future avenues for research that go beyond the mainstream of research on political representation Taken together the chapters provide a wide vista of political representation across several sub disciplines in political science political theory political philosophy party politics electoral politics feminism European politics minority politics online governance etc and also open up new research avenues through a thorough investigation and critique of political representation in scholarship The Wiley Handbook of Diversity in Special Education
