Paley, 1999-10-07 The interrelationship of the ideas of apocalypse and millennium is a dominant concern of British Romanticism The Book of Revelation provides a model of history in which apocalypse is followed by millennium but in their various ways the major Romantic poets Blake Wordsworth Coleridge Byron Keats and Shelley question and even at times

undermine the possibility of a successful secularization of this model No matter how confidently the sequence of apocalypse and millennium seems to be affirmed in some of the major works of the period the issue is always in doubt the fear that millennium may not ensue emerges as a significant if often repressed theme in the great works of the period Related to it is the tension in Romantic poetry between conflicting models of history itself history as teleology developing towards end time and millennium and history as purposeless cycle This subject matter is traced through a selection of works by the major poets partly through an exposition of their underlying intellectual traditions and partly through a close examination of the poems themselves

The First Last Man Eileen M. Hunt, 2024-04-16 Beyond her most famous creation the nightmarish vision of Frankenstein's Creature Mary Shelley's most enduring influence on politics literature and art perhaps stems from the legacy of her lesser known novel about the near extinction of the human species through war disease and corruption This novel The Last Man 1826 gives us the iconic image of a heroic survivor who narrates the history of an apocalyptic disaster in order to save humanity if not as a species then at least as the practice of compassion or humaneness In visual and musical arts from 1826 to the present this postapocalyptic figure has transmogrified from the last man into the globally familiar filmic images of the invisible man and the final girl Reading Shelley's work against the background of epidemic literature and political thought from ancient Greece to Covid 19 Eileen M Hunt reveals how Shelley's postapocalyptic imagination has shaped science fiction and dystopian writing from H G Wells M P Shiel and George Orwell to Octavia Butler Margaret Atwood and Emily St John Mandel Through archival research into Shelley's personal journals and other writings Hunt unearths Shelley's ruminations on her own personal experiences of loss including the death of young children in her family to disease and the drowning of her husband Percy Bysshe Shelley Shelley's grief drove her to intensive study of Greek tragedy through which she developed the thinking about plague conflict and collective responsibility that later emerges in her fiction From her readings of classic works of plague literature to her own translation of Sophocles's Oedipus Rex and from her authorship of the first major modern pandemic novel to her continued influence on contemporary popular culture Shelley gave rise to a tradition of postapocalyptic thought that asks a question that the Covid 19 pandemic has made newly urgent for many What do humans do after disaster Complete Works, Reprinted Entire from the Last English Edition Mrs. Hemans,1852 A Year of Fear Bryan Senn,2015-03-26 This eclectic overview of horror cinema offers up a collection of horror films for practically any occasion and literally every day of the year For example the author recommends commemorating United Nations Day October 24 with a screening of The Colossus of New York whose startling climax takes place at the U N Building Each day by day entry includes the movie title production year plot summary and critique along with a brief explanation of how the film fits into the history of that particular day and interesting anecdotes on the film s production Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1966 Catastrophes Nitzan Lebovic,Andreas Killen,2014-07-28 Catastrophic scenarios dominate our contemporary mindset Catastrophic events and predictions have spurred new interest in re examining the history of earlier disasters and the social and conceptual resources they have mobilized The essays gathered in this volume reconsider the history and theory of different catastrophes and their aftermath The emphasis is on the need to distance this process of reconsideration from previous teleological representations of catastrophes as an endpoint and to begin considering their operative aspects which unmask the nature of social and political structures Among the essays in this volume are analyses by leading scholars in their respective fields concerning the role of catastrophes in theology in the history of industrial accidents in theory of history in the history of law in catastrophe films in the history of cybernetics in post Holocaust discussions of reparations and in climate change Baltimore Volume 4: Chapel of Bones Mike Mignola,2014-06-24 The world s greatest monster hunter wages war against a plague of vampires intent on resurrecting a demonic god an evil witch in league with a clan of undead and his mortal nemesis leading to a final showdown in London Written by award winning bestselling writers Mike Mignola and Christopher Golden The Broadview Anthology of British Literature Volume 4: The Age of Romanticism - Second Edition Joseph Black,Leonard Conolly,Kate Flint,Isobel Grundy,Don LePan,Roy Liuzza,Jerome J.
