The Lucky Ones Jenny Brown, 2012-08-02 Jonathan Safran Foer meets Jeffrey Moussaieff Mason in a poignant provocative memoir of survival compassion and awakening to the reality of our food system Jenny Brown was just ten years old when she lost a leg to bone cancer Throughout the ordeal her constant companion was a cat named Boogie Years later she would make the connection between her feline friend and the farm animals she ate acknowledging that most of America's domesticated animals live on industrialized farms and are viewed as mere production units Raised in a conservative Southern Baptist family in Kentucky Brown had been taught to avoid asking questions But she found her calling and the courage to speak out She left a flourishing career as a film and television producer after going undercover and exposing horrific animal abuse in Texas stockyards Bringing to life this exhilarating transformation The Lucky Ones introduces readers to Brown's crowning achievement the renowned Woodstock Farm Animal Sanctuary she established with her husband in 2004 With a cast of unforgettable survivors including a fugitive slaughterhouse cow named Kayli Albie the three legged goat and Quincy an Easter duckling found abandoned in New York City The Lucky Ones reveals shocking statistics about the prevalence of animal abuse throughout America's agribusinesses Blending wry humor with unflinching honesty Brown brings a compelling new voice to the healthy living movement and to the vulnerable voiceless creatures among us Animal Rights and

Allowed to Grow Old Isa Leshko, 2019-05-10 There s nothing quite like a relationship with an aged pet a dog or cat who has been at our side for years forming an ineffable bond Pampered pets however are a rarity among animals who have been domesticated Farm animals for example are usually slaughtered before their first birthday We never stop to think about it but the typical images we see of cows chickens pigs and the like are of young animals What would we see if they were allowed to grow old Isa Leshko shows us brilliantly with this collection of portraits To create these portraits she spent hours with her subjects gaining their trust and putting them at ease The resulting images reveal the unique personality of each animal It s impossible to look away from the animals in these images as they unforgettably meet our gaze simultaneously calm and challenging In these photographs we see the cumulative effects of the hardships of industrialized farm life but also the healing that time can bring and the dignity that can emerge when farm animals are allowed to age on their own terms Each portrait is accompanied by a brief biographical note about its subject and the book is rounded out with essays that explore the history of animal photography the place of beauty in activist art and much more Open this book to any page Meet Teresa a thirteen year old Yorkshire Pig or Melvin an eleven year old Angora Goat or Tom a seven year old Broad Breasted White Turkey You ll never forget them
