

Evaluation: The International Journal of Theory, Research and Practice

Daniela C. Schröter

In a time of results-based management and budgeting, the question whether or not the inputs have been in line with the policies of donors and partner countries is not longer really relevant. The real question is whether the results of our actions are in line with the policies and the problems that these policies tried to address.

(van den Berg, p. 35)

The first 2005 issue of Evaluation (Volume 11(1), January 2005) begins with two contributions to A Visit to the World of Practice, both of which focus on results-based evaluation and impact assessment within the context of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs). Please visit <http://ddp-ext.worldbank.org/ext/MDG/-home.do> for information on the MDGs.

First, Kusek, Rist, and White discuss how the shift from implementation-focused monitoring and evaluation (M&E) to results-based M&E is taking place in various developed and developing countries, which challenges are being faced in this transition, and what strategies should be considered when introducing results-based M&E, including readiness assessments, political and organizational issues, and potential challenges with implementation, reliable data collection and analysis.
