Current Issues and Answers in Education Ronald Holmes Ph. D., 2012-04 Through extensive research and best practices of various schools nationwide this book provides educators with solutions to the problems in our public schools. These solutions include articles on some of the latest federal programs afforded to state education agencies to address challenges plaguing public schools such as the No Child Left Behind Act. The book can be very helpful to school stakeholders such as parents, teachers, principals, and district administrators since the topics focus on the K-12 environments. With a plethora of references to support numerous suggestions, discrepancies, and issues, this book can be useful to graduate students, professors, researchers, university administrators, and education state agencies. In a proposal format, this book also provides a roadmap for successful and struggling schools in the U.S. with objectives, goals, strategies, and performance measures.

Overloaded and Underprepared Denise Pope, Maureen Brown, Sarah Miles, 2015-06-17 Praise for Overloaded and Underprepared Parents, teachers, and administrators are all concerned that America's kids are stressed out, checked out, or both, but many have no idea where to begin when it comes to solving the problem. That's why the work of Challenge Success is so urgent. It has created a model for creating change in our schools that is based on research and solid foundational principles like communication, creativity, and compassion. If your community wants to build better schools and a brighter future, this book is the place to start. Daniel H. Pink, author of Drive and A Whole New Mind. Challenge Success synthesizes the research on effective school practices and offers concrete tools and strategies that educators and parents can use immediately to make a difference in their communities. By focusing on the day-to-day necessities of a healthy schedule, an engaging, personalized, and rigorous curriculum, and a caring climate, this book is an invaluable resource for school leaders, teachers, parents, and students to help them design learning communities where every student feels a sense of belonging, purpose, and motivation to learn the skills necessary to succeed now and in the future. Linda Darling-Hammond, Charles E. Ducommun, Professor of Education, Stanford University. Finally, a book about education and student well-being that is both research-based and eminently readable. With all the worry about student stress and academic engagement, Pope, Brown, and Miles gently remind us that there is much we already know about how to create better schools and healthier kids. Citing evidence-based best practices gleaned from years of work with schools across the country, they show us what is not working but more importantly, what we need to do to fix things. Filled with practical suggestions and exercises that can be implemented easily, as well as advice on how to approach long-term change, Overloaded and Underprepared is a clear and compelling roadmap for teachers, school administrators, and parents who believe that we owe our children a better education. Madeline Levine, co-founder, Challenge Success, author of The Price of Privilege and Teach Your Children Well. This new book from the leaders behind Challenge Success provides a thorough and balanced exploration of the structural challenges facing students, parents, educators, and administrators in our primary and secondary schools today. The authors' unique approach of sharing proven strategies that enable students to thrive while recognizing that the most effective solutions are tailored on a school by school basis makes for a valuable handbook for anyone seeking to better understand the many complex dimensions at work in a successful learning environment John J DeGioia President of Georgetown University this time of turmoil and tragedy With these ideas in mind the American Educational History Journal sought to hear from historians and other scholars about this unique and devastating time in our country s history The Journal honors the traditions of oral history and narrative storytelling as a means to gather the voices of those whose lives have been touched by the COVID 19 crisis literally everyone around the globe This special issue deviates a bit from traditional AEHJ requirements in that we specifically invited narratives not be full blown historical research studies The point of this special issue is for authors themselves to serve as the archival material that will benefit future scholars interested in understanding what it meant to live through this health catastrophe while doing the work of educators We believe we owe it to the historians of the future to share our voices in real time Crossing the Digital Divide Barbara Jean Monroe,2004-04-17 As poor nonwhite communities on the other side of the digital divide become immersed in electronic media how can we evaluate their experiences to transform the teaching of writing and literature and improve student learning This important book offers a balanced view of instructional technology and critical multiculturalism with valuable insights to help English educators at all levels working in all types of schools Slagdrop Presents America...
