Teaching First-Year College Students Maggie Murphy, 2019-05-15

The first year experience is an emerging hot topic in academic libraries, and many librarians who work with first year students are interested in best practices for engaging and retaining them. Professional discussion and interest groups, conferences, and vendor sponsored awards for librarians working with first year students are popping up left and right. A critical aspect of libraries in the first year experience is effective information literacy instruction for first year students. Research shows that despite growing up in a world rife with technology and information, students entering college rarely bring with them the conceptual understandings and critical habits of thinking needed for finding, evaluating, and ethically using information in both academic and real world contexts. Faculty in upper level courses expect students to learn about the research process in their first year of college, and instructors in the first year curriculum expect librarians to teach this to their students. Despite all this, designing teaching and evaluating effective information literacy instruction specifically for first year students is not necessarily intuitive for instruction librarians. That is why Teaching First Year College Students: A Practical Guide for Librarians is a comprehensive how to guide for both new and experienced librarians interested in planning teaching and assessing library instruction for first year students. The book examines the related histories of library instruction and first year experience initiatives, summarizes and synthesizes empirical research and educational theory about first year students as learners and novice researchers, establishes best practices for engaging first year students through active learning and inclusive teaching, features excerpts from interviews with a number of instruction librarians who work with first year students in a range of positions and instructional contexts, includes examples of activities, lesson plans, and assessment ideas for first year library instruction for common first year course scenarios, includes a template to use for library instruction lesson planning. Written by a library instruction coordinator with a graduate degree in First Year Studies and a first year instruction librarian, Teaching First Year College Students: A Practical Guide for Librarians is the first comprehensive how to guide for both new and experienced librarians interested in planning, coordinating teaching and assessing library instruction for first year students.

Where there's a Will... Motivation and Volition in College Teaching and Learning Michael Theall, John M. Keller, 2018-01-24 focuses on a model for motivation volition and performance that acknowledges the importance of volition as action subsequent to motivation action that leads to improved performance This MVP model provides a framework for considering various teaching and learning topics and can be extended into other areas such as professional development While models such as MVP are particularly helpful in establishing the relationships among constructs and in explaining theoretical bases integration and application of such models are equally important This issue discusses applications of the model and provide concrete ideas for integrating it into ongoing teaching practice This is the 152nd volume of this Jossey Bass higher education series It offers a comprehensive range of ideas and techniques for improving college teaching based on the experience of seasoned instructors and the latest findings of educational and psychological researchers Selected Topics in Inorganic Chemistry - Part II Dr. A. AHMED RAZA & Dr. SEENU RAVI, 2024-09-05 This book is for the postgraduate students of chemistry aspiring to crack competitive examinations such as CSIR NET GATE SLET SET and PhD entrance examinations Presently admission to PhD programs in premier institutions like IITs NITs CSIR laboratories central universities and state universities is based on either NET GATE certificate or PhD entrance examinations Further the minimum eligibility criteria laid by UGC for the direct recruitment of Assistant Professors in the higher educational institutions is a postgraduate degree with NET SLET SET certificate Thus the students are bound to pass these examinations to pursue a bright career either in research or in academic teaching The cut off for qualifying these exams is 40 to 50% However the qualifying percentage of the candidates appearing for these examinations is around 5% only Therefore an attempt has been made by authors to develop study material pertaining to the syllabus of these exams along with the solved problems from the previous year question papers which will guide the students to qualify easily Annual Catalogue of the Mt.
