mostly originates outside the sites and domains of the established or mainstream cultural production and social norms and conventions particularly in occult practices subversive acts and the plotting of radical individuals or groups criminal and fraudulent activities of various kinds dubious scientific experiments and the popular dramatic forms of ritual and entertainment whose permanent encounters with and contesting of the officially approved and prescribed forms instigate the city's vitalising energy for dynamic change and spiritual renewal This book presents the world of Ackroyd's London novels as a distinct chronotope determined by specific spatial and temporal properties and their mutual interconnectedness Although such a concept of urban space in its essence defies categorisation the book is thematically organised around six defining aspects of the city as Ackroyd identifies them the relationship between its past and present its uncanny manifestations its felonious tendencies its inhabitants psychogeographic and antiquarian strategies its theatricality and its inherently literary character
