The Best Australian Stories 2014:

The Best Australian Stories 2017 Maxine Beneba Clarke, 2017-11-06 In The Best Australian Stories acclaimed writer Maxine Beneba Clarke brings together our country's leading literary talents. Maxine Beneba Clarke is an Australian writer of Afro Caribbean descent. The Best Australian Stories 2014 Amanda Lohrey, 2014 In The Best Australian Stories 2014 Patrick White Award-winning author Amanda Lohrey selects the outstanding short fiction of the year. Sometimes fantastical, sometimes raw and always a shot of adrenaline to the mind and heart, this collection features exciting new voices alongside the established and admired. The edges of reality blur in a corporate lawyer's tale of working in a 1200-storey glass tower. A prized coffee table becomes the focus of a father's anxieties and frustrations. Tense and fractured lines of communication shape the life of an interpreter on Christmas Island. Imaginative, remarkable, intimate, this unmissable anthology celebrates the art of consummate storytelling. The art of the story is mostly about the journey and the economy of means with which the writers here carry us a great distance. It is at times breathtaking.

Amanda Lohrey Something Special, Something Rare Black Inc., 2015-03-31 Something Special, Something Rare presents outstanding short fiction by Australia's finest female writers. These are tales of love, secrets, doubt, and torment the everyday and the extraordinary. A sleepy town is gripped by delusory grief after the movie being filmed there wraps and leaves. A lingering heartbreak is replayed on Facebook. An ordinary family walks a shaky line between hopelessness and redemption. Brilliant, shocking, and profound, these tales will leave you reeling in ways that only a great short story can. Kate Grenville, Mandy Sayer, Penni Russon, Favel Parrett, Tegan Bennett Daylight, Sonya Hartnett, Isabelle Li, Gillian Essex, Brenda Walker, Gillian Mears, Fiona MacFarlane, Joan London, Karen Hitchcock, Charlotte Wood, Tara June Winch, Cate Kennedy, Alice Pung, Anna Krien, Delia Falconer, Rebekah Clarkson. This collection is a fantastic line-up of some of Australia's best writers who simply happen to be women. The themes explored are as wide-ranging and eclectic as the writers. Sunday Age. All the stories here justify that use of outstanding in the collection's subtitle. If pushed to choose one standout for me, it is Favel Parrett's Lebanon, which in its three pages manages to convey more emotion than some stories do in 300. This beautiful meditation on loss and belonging evokes the Australian tyranny of distance and is a fine example of what the short story form can achieve. The Australian Perfect fodder for a Sunday arvo on the couch, these charming funny touching short stories from well known Australian female writers are what winter was made for Cosmopolitan A wonderful selection the strength of the collection is that it doesn't define the Australian woman writer as a particular situation and includes writers from various social and cultural backgrounds Artshub Culinary Discourses in Asian-Australian Writing Astrid Schwegler-Castañer, 2025-03-24 Besides nourishing us food can be used metaphorically to help us understand the complex and abstract concepts through which we negotiate our position in the world we talk about digesting ideas ruminating on a problem or swallowing an insult Building on this premise the book offers a detailed analysis of culinary imagery in twenty first century works from Asian Australian authors like Hsu Ming Teo Alice Pung Simone Lazaroo and Shaun Tan Food is used to embody the abstractions that underlie racial inequalities and conflicts questioning the superficiality of Australia's official multiculturalism and its reproduction of racial and cultural privileges At the same time the analysis highlights the power of these fictional narratives to envision alternative worlds in the hope of gaining common ground for human understanding and solidarity took a bird's eye view of any sprawling Australian regional town you'd see ordinary Australians living on their ordinary suburban blocks. Get closer. Peer through a window. In the town of Mount Barker you might see Nathan Hearle obsessively recording the bark of a neighbourhood dog or the Wheeler family sitting down for a meal and trying to come to terms with a shocking discovery. You might hear tales of fathers and their wayward sons of widows who can't forgive themselves of children longed for and lost of thwarted lust and of pure love. Within the shadows is an unspeakable crime. Rebekah Clarkson has created a compelling slow burning portrait of a town in the midst of major change as it makes the painful transformation from rural idyll to aspirational suburbia. What looked like redemption is now profound loss. What seemed spiteful can now be forgiven. A novel in stories Barking Dogs is an assured debut from one of Australia's most respected storytellers.

Architectures of Occupation in the Australian Short Story Patrick West, 2024-05-28 Patrick West's Architectures of Occupation in the Australian Short Story cultivates the potential for literary representations of architectural space to contribute to the development of a contemporary politics of Australian post colonialism. West argues that the predominance of tropes of place within cultural and critical expressions of Australian post colonialism should be re balanced through attention to spatial strategies of anti colonial power. To elaborate the raw material of such strategies West develops interdisciplinary close readings of keynote stories within three female authored pan twentieth century Australian short story collections: Bush Studies by Barbara Baynton 1902, Kiss on the Lips and Other Stories by Katharine Susannah Prichard 1932 and White Turtle: A Collection of Short Stories by Merlinda Bobis 1999. The capacity of the short story form to prompt creative and politically germinal engagements with species of space associated with architecture and buildings is underscored. Relatedly West argues that the recent resurgence of binary thought on local national and international scales occasions an approach to the short story collections shaped by binary relationships like a dichotomy of inside and outside. Concluding his argument West connects the literary and architectural critiques of the story collections to the wicked problem linked to ongoing colonial violences of improving Australian Indigenous housing outcomes. Innovative and interdisciplinary this book will be of interest to scholars and students of Literary Architectural and Postcolonial Studies. Digital Journalism, Drones, and Automation Cate Dowd, 2020-01-27 In Digital Journalism: Drones and Automation Cate Dowd explores modern trends in data journalism and takes readers through the specific risks and benefits that these modern journalistic trends have on society as a whole. Seabirds Crying in the Harbour Dark Catherine Cole, Cathy Cole, 2017 The room rustled as the children looked around. A young boy yearns for a rabbit a man battles for his father's love a group of middle class Australians find themselves in a newly renovated house and an elderly refugee worries about his daughter's sea voyage. Seabirds Crying in the Harbour Dark is about seeking refuge about how we define home and what makes us feel safe. Keeble,2015-10-14 This book examines the history theory and journalistic practice of profile writing Profiles and the practice of writing them are of increasing interest to scholars of journalism because conflicts between the interviewer and the subject exemplify the changing nature of journalism itself While the subject often through the medium of their press representative struggles to retain control of the interview space the journalist seeks to subvert it This interesting and multi layered interaction however has rarely been subject to critical scrutiny partly because profiles have traditionally been regarded as public relations exercises or as soft journalism However chapters in this volume reveal not only that profiling has historically taken many different forms but that the idea of the interview as a contested space has applications beyond the subject of celebrated individuals The volume looks at the profile s historical beginnings at the contemporary manufacture of celebrity versus the ordinary at profiling communities countries and movements at profiling the destitute at sporting personalities and finally at profiling and trauma
