

A PAPERBACK ORIGINAL

'This charming, vivid and poetic book captures the poignancy of immigrant life and all the unresolved pain of Africa's relationship with its former colonial powers' Michela Wrong

'In her memorable novel Diome confronts the refractions of post-colonialism with a rare vigour, combining a lacerating intelligence with the warm heart of a poet' Allison Fell

Salie lives in Paris. Back home on the Senegalese island of Niodior, her football-crazy brother, Madické, counts on her to get him to France, the promised land where foreign footballers become world famous. Given his illusions, how can Salie explain to him the grim reality of life as an immigrant?

The story of Salie and Madické highlights the painful situation of those who emigrate. Others who feel this pain include Ndétare, the Marxist schoolteacher and football coach, exiled to Niodior by the government but never accepted by those born there. Then there's the legendary beauty Sankéle, his former lover, whose only way out of an arranged marriage ends in tragedy. And poor Moussa, whose dreams look set to come true when he's scouted by a big French football club, but which fall apart when he doesn't make the team.

Fatou Diome's assured first novel looks with humour and empathy at the different destinies of those on either side of the divide of exile.
