The Brain Big Bangs Behaviors And Beliefs Ian Tattersall:

The Brain Rob DeSalle, Ian Tattersall, 2012-04-30 An engaging and complex examination of the development of the human brain throughout its evolutionary history Publishers Weekly After several million years of jostling for ecological space only one survivor from a host of hominid species remains standing us Human beings are extraordinary creatures and it is the unprecedented human brain that makes them so In this delightfully accessible book the authors present the first full step by step account of the evolution of the brain and nervous system Tapping the very latest findings in evolutionary biology neuroscience and molecular biology Rob DeSalle and Ian Tattersall explain how the cognitive gulf that separates us from all other living creatures could have occurred They discuss The development and uniqueness of human consciousness How human and nonhuman brains work The roles of different nerve cells The importance of memory and language in brain functions and much more Our brains they conclude are the product of a lengthy and supremely untidy history an evolutionary process of many zigs and zags that has accidentally resulted in a splendidly eccentric and creative product

The Future of the Mind Michio Kaku, 2015-02-17 1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER The renowned theoretical physicist and national bestselling author of The God Equation tackles the most fascinating and complex object in the known universe the human brain Compelling Kaku thinks with great breadth and the vistas he presents us are worth the trip The New York Times Book Review The Future of the Mind brings a topic that once belonged solely to the province of science fiction into a startling new reality This scientific tour de force unveils the astonishing research being done in top laboratories around the world all based on the latest advancements in neuroscience and physics including recent experiments in telepathy mind control avatars telekinesis and recording memories and dreams The Future of the Mind is an extraordinary mind boggling exploration of the frontiers of neuroscience Dr Kaku looks toward the day when we may achieve the ability to upload the human brain to a computer neuron for neuron project thoughts and emotions around the world on a brain net take a smart pill to enhance cognition send our consciousness across the universe and push the very limits of immortality

Cannabis Rob DeSalle, 2015-11-18 The definitive story of cannabis from its evolution and biological quirks to its role in human history In this entertaining natural history Rob DeSalle provides a glimpse into the biological world through the lens of the marijuana plant A close relative of hops with a surprising place in the botanical tree of life cannabis has a unique life cycle has evolved pathways for over four hundred compounds and makes one thousand or so different chemicals that are stored in its tissues some of which are the basis of its famed psychoactive properties With his scientist s perspective on this well known and controversial plant DeSalle considers taxonomy systematics evolution human physiology and neurobiology and cultural issues He discusses the plant s complicated reproductive strategies considers ancient arthropod cannabis associations from South Asia and offers a nuanced cultural history that extends from the first evidence of smoking cannabis more than two thousand years ago to the current debates over legalization Engaging and extensively researched with illustrations by Patricia J Wynne

this is a vital resource for cannabis enthusiasts and anyone curious about the science behind this infamous weed The Emotional Mind Stephen T. Asma, Rami Gabriel, 2019-04-15 For 200 million years before humans developed a capacity to reason the emotional centers of the brain were hard at work Stephen Asma and Rami Gabriel help us understand the evolution of the mind by exploring this more primal capability that we share with other animals the power to feel which is the root of so much that makes us uniquely human Full Potential: Daoist Wisdom Meets Western Psychology Livia Kohn, 2019 Blending modern psychology and Daoist wisdom into a recipe for the fully actualized child this book shows how human beings form an integral part of nature and the greater universe Partaking in Dao to the fullest they can experience a sense of well being inner harmony and overarching excellence Ancient Chinese texts describe this realization of our full potential in terms of free and easy wandering or skillful spontaneity Western psychologists similarly speak of personal fulfillment in work and play Most important among them are Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi with his concept of flow Martin Seligman with his studies of authentic happiness and Howard Gardner with his system of multiple intelligences Activated differently in the brain subject to both genes and training these psychological dimensions become apparent in different stages of childhood development and are enhanced by optimal learning conditions manifold forms of play and conscientious parenting leading to the realization of full potential and attainment of Daoist harmony This book offers a unique presentation none other pulls the same level of information together let alone present it in such a vibrant and engaging way New Visions of the Zhuangzi Livia Kohn, 2015 New Visions of the Zhuangzi is a collection of thirteen essays on the ancient Daoist philosophical work presenting new angles and approaches It overcomes the traditional division of schools in favor of topics sheds new light on key philosophical notions examines Zhuangzi's use of language and explores issues of his use of language In addition it also applies modern neuroscience to its instructions explores its vision of the ideal mind and connects Zhuangzi's teachings to issues of education and community relevant in contemporary society Rethinking Serial Murder, Spree Killing, and Atrocities Robert Shanafelt, Nathan W. Pino, 2014-11-20 Multiple killings by serial or spree killers and the mass violence seen in war crimes and other atrocities have typically been understood as discrete category types which can foster the view that there are fundamentally different kinds of human beings including deviants who are born evil and innately given to sadism or a callous lack of empathy In contrast this book considers the violence of these deviants in terms of larger questions about human violence Therefore in addition to describing the life histories of a sample of individual serial and spree murderers the book includes analysis of macro level phenomena such as genocide mass rape and killing and torture occurring under conditions of war state authorization or political upheaval The chief claim of the book is that given the right combination of factors occurring at different levels of analysis virtually anyone can emerge as a killer or perpetrator of atrocities While it is crucial to understand individual killers in terms of the details of their biographies it is equally crucial to understand political atrocities in terms of the details of their histories and to see that persons and groups are always the product of complexly interacting assemblage processes Back to Human Nature Charles B. Osburn,2020-09-08 Emotions feelings and morality play a critical role in our daily decision making With the rapid advance of industry and technology however this subjective information is becoming less valued in critical decisions Rational thought and the accumulation of objective knowledge are often credited with humanity s thriving success in recent centuries This book makes the case that humanity s social progress has only been possible through these too often repressed subjective factors and will be equally crucial in altering the present course of society A Natural History of Beer Rob DeSalle,Ian Tattersall,2019-02-26 A celebration of beer its science its history and its impact on human culture What can beer teach us about biology history and the natural world From ancient Mesopotamian fermentation practices to the resurgent American craft brewery Rob DeSalle and Ian Tattersall peruse the historical record and traverse the globe for engaging and often surprising stories about beer They explain how we came to drink beer what ingredients combine to give beers their distinctive flavors how beer s chemistry works at the molecular level and how various societies have regulated the production and consumption of beer Drawing from such diverse subject areas as animal behavior ecology history archaeology chemistry sociology law genetics physiology neurobiology and more DeSalle and Tattersall entertain and inform with their engaging stories of beer throughout human history and the science behind it all Readers are invited to grab a beer and explore the fascinating history of its creation Science and the Dao Livia Kohn,2016 Modern Humans John F. Hoffecker,2017-10-31 Modern Humans is a vivid account of the most recent and perhaps the most important phase of human evolution the appearance of anatomically modern people Homo sapiens in Africa less than half a million years ago and their later spread throughout the world Leaving no stone unturned John F Hoffecker demonstrates that Homo sapiens represents a major transition in the evolution of living systems in terms of fundamental changes in the role of non genetic information Modern Humans synthesizes recent findings from genetics including the rapidly growing body of ancient DNA the human fossil record and archaeology relating to the African origin and global dispersal of anatomically modern people Hoffecker places humans in the broad context of the evolution of life emphasizing the critical role of genetic and non genetic forms of information in living systems as well as how changes in the storage transmission and translation of information underlie major transitions in evolution He also draws on information and complexity theory to explain the emergence of Homo sapiens in Africa several hundred thousand years ago and the rapid and unprecedented spread of our species into a variety of environments in Australia and Eurasia including the Arctic and Beringia beginning between 75 000 and 60 000 years ago This magisterial work will appeal to all with an interest in the ever fascinating field of human evolution Imperfection Telmo Pievani,2024-02-06 In praise of imperfection how life on our planet is a catalog of imperfections errors alternatives and anomalies In the beginning there was imperfection which became the source of all things Anomalies and asymmetries caused planets to take shape from the bubbling void and sent light into darkness Life on earth is a catalog of accidents alternatives and errors that turned out to work quite well In this book Telmo

Pievani shows that life on our planet has flourished and survived not because of its perfection but despite and perhaps because of its imperfection. He begins his story with the disruption filled birth of the universe and proceeds through the random DNA copying errors that fuel evolution, the transformations of advantages into handicaps by natural selection, the anatomical and functional jumble that is the human brain, and our many bodily mismatches. Along the way, Pievani tells readers about the Irish elk incidentally, neither Irish nor elk, whose enormous antlers serve to illustrate the first two laws of imperfection: the widespread dissemination of costly or useless traits and the neuroimperfection of the human brain, a frozen accident of evolution that was not designed from scratch, as Pievani calls it. He sizes up the alleged perfection of the human body, asking for example, if everything in our bodies serves a purpose, why do we have appendixes? Why bipedalism with the inevitable back pain that results? In this fascinating account, Pievani offers the first comprehensive explanatory theory for the ubiquity of imperfection.

Origins Jim Baggott, 2018-06-06 What is life? Where do we come from and how did we evolve? What is the universe and how was it formed? What is the nature of the material world? How does it work? How and why do we think? What does it mean to be human? How do we know? There are many different versions of our creation story. This book tells the version according to modern science. It is a unique account starting at the Big Bang and travelling right up to the emergence of humans as conscious intelligent beings 13.8 billion years later. Chapter by chapter, it sets out the current state of scientific knowledge: the origins of space and time, energy, mass, and light; galaxies, stars, and our sun; the habitable earth; and complex life itself. Drawing together the physical and biological sciences, Baggott recounts what we currently know of our history, highlighting the questions science has yet to answer.

Human Origins and the Image of God Lilley & Pedersen, eds., 2017 How did human beings originate? What, if anything, makes us unique? These questions have long been central to philosophers, theologians, and scientists. This book continues that robust interdisciplinary conversation with contributions from an international team of scholars whose expertise ranges from biology and anthropology to philosophical theology and ethics. The fourteen chapters in this volume are organized around Wentzel van Huyssteen's pioneering work in human rationality, embodiment, and evolutionary history. Bringing a variety of diverse perspectives to bear on a hotly debated issue, Human Origins and the Image of God showcases new research by some of today's finest scholars working on questions regarding human origins and human uniqueness.

Science vs. Religion: Guido O. Perez, 2015-04-01 Most people look to religion and science, faith and reason, for an explanation of everything that is, but neither the scientific nor the religious system can actually provide all the answers to life's questions. Is that really what we're looking for? The author examines both science and religion in some detail and from a variety of standpoints. A life-long educator, he indicates many avenues for further reading so that no one has to simply accept whatever his family or community traditions may have proposed. One sticking point in most discussions of religion vs. science is that few of us really have enough information about both positions and the myriad hybrid beliefs in between in order to make a proper evaluation. As a professor of medicine and an avid investigator of these questions Dr Guido Perez offers some background and guidance The author explores the basics of theism and today's largest religions and gives a solid grounding in the facts and theoretical basis for evolution and the scientific approach to knowledge He then explores a possible place to stand in both morally and intellectually grounded while we puzzle out our existence a rational belief system that accounts for what we can account for while recognizing those mysteries and existential questions we humans just can't seem to stop asking Dr Perez proposes a rational belief system grounded in natural science and humanism an approach where morality comes naturally not because we fear divine punishment but because we inherently understand what is good for humanity Masters of the Planet Ian

Tattersall, 2025-09-23 50 000 years ago merely a blip in evolutionary time our Homo sapiens ancestors were competing for existence with several other human species just as their own precursors had been doing for millions of years Yet something about our species separated it from the pack and led to its survival while the rest became extinct So just what was it that allowed Homo sapiens to become Masters of the Planet Curator Emeritus at the American Museum of Natural History Ian Tattersall takes us deep into the fossil record to uncover what made humans so special Surveying a vast field from initial bipedality to language and intelligence Tattersall argues that Homo sapiens acquired a winning combination of traits that was not the result of long term evolutionary refinement Instead it emerged quickly shocking their world and changing it forever Our Senses Rob DeSalle, 2018-01-09 An animated introduction to the neuroscience of sensory perception informed by the latest research on topics from music to brain injuries to synesthesia Kirkus Reviews In recent years neuroscience has uncovered a wealth of new information about our senses and how they serve as our gateway to the world This splendidly accessible book explores the most intriguing findings of this research With infectious enthusiasm Rob DeSalle illuminates not only how we see hear smell touch taste maintain balance feel pain and rely on other less familiar senses but also how these senses shape our perception of the world aesthetically artistically and musically DeSalle first examines the question of how perception and consciousness are formed in the brain setting human senses in an evolutionary context He then investigates such varied themes as supersenses and diminished senses synesthesia and other cross sensory phenomena hemispheric specialization diseases anomalies induced by brain injuries and hallucinations Focusing on what is revealed about our senses through the extraordinary he provides unparalleled insights into the unique wonders of the human brain In the laboratory sensory science is serious business But in the capable hands of Rob DeSalle it becomes fun and compelling for the general reader and is made all the more accessible by Patricia Wynne's delightful illustrations Ian Tattersall author of The Strange Case of the Rickety Cossack and Other Cautionary Tales from Human Evolution The ^AEdge of Evolution

Ronald Edwards, 2016-02-17 The book presents a re-reading of H G Wells novel The Island of Doctor Moreau as a key to addressing the controversies of our own humanity It raises the issue without human exceptionalism where do ethics come from Distilled Rob DeSalle, Ian Tattersall, 2022-07-12 An imaginative natural history survey of the wide world of spirits from whiskey and gin to grappa and moonshine In this follow up book to A Natural History of Wine and A Natural History of Beer authors Rob DeSalle and Ian Tattersall yet again use alcoholic beverages as a lens through which to gain a greater appreciation of natural history This volume considers highly alcoholic spirits in the context of evolution ecology history primatology molecular biology physiology neurobiology chemistry and even astrophysics With the help of illustrator Patricia Wynne DeSalle and Tattersall address historical and cultural aspects and ingredients the distillation process and spirits and their effects They also call on an international group of colleagues to contribute chapters on brandy vodka tequila whiskies gin rum eaux de vie schnapps baiju grappa ouzo and cacha a Covering beverages from across the globe and including descriptions of the experience of tasting each drink this book offers an accessible and comprehensive exploration of the scientific dimensions of spirits
