The Life, Crime, and

Capture of John Wilkes Booth George A. Townsend,2014-10-23 Right or wrong God judge me not man For be my motive good or bad of one thing I am sure the lasting condemnation of the North John Wilkes Booth Before the night of April 14 1865 John Wilkes Booth was one of the most famous actors of his time and President Abraham Lincoln had even watched him perform but his most significant performance at a theater did not take place on the stage That night Booth became one of history s most infamous assassins when he shot President Lincoln at Ford s Theatre in Washington D C Booth was a member of the prominent 19th century Booth theatrical family from Maryland and he was a well known actor throughout much of the country by the 1860s But Booth was also a Confederate sympathizer who dabbled in espionage and he was increasingly outraged at the Lincoln Administration Although Robert E Lee had surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia at Appomattox a few days earlier an action often cited as the end of the Civil War Booth believed the war was not yet over because Confederate soldiers under General Joseph E Johnston were still fighting and the flamboyant actor hoped his conspiracy could strike the kind of blow that might turn the Confederacy s fate around Early plans to kidnap and ransom President Lincoln ultimately gave way to a wide ranging conspiracy by Booth and a small group to kill Lincoln and other top officials in a bid to decapitate the federal government and help the South Perhaps not surprisingly the actor's flair for the dramatic came at a cost to the plot It took almost no time for the shocked public and the federal government to begin unraveling Booth's conspiracy which had mostly faltered from the beginning Following the shooting America's most famous manhunt commenced a 12 day pursuit that became the stuff of legends and controversy itself Eight others were eventually tried for their alleged involvement in the plot and convicted and four were hanged shortly thereafter as a result of some of the nation's most famous trials Booth's crime has ensured his notoriety but it has also overshadowed his life and career not to mention his Civil War activities and the evolution of his plot with the action These contained the Duke of Wellington's first despatch announcing the victory the reports of the subordinate commanders and the current gossip as to the episodes and hazards of the day The time will come when remarkable incidents of these our times will be a staple of as great curiosity as the issue of Waterloo It is an incident without a precedent on this side of the globe and never to be repeated Assassination has made its last effort to become indigenous here The public sentiment of Loyalist and Rebel has denounced it the world has remarked it with uplifted hands and words of execration Therefore as long as history shall hold good the murder of the President will be a theme for poesy romance and tragedy We who live in this consecrated time keep the sacred souvenirs of Mr Lincoln's death in our possession and the best of these are the news letters descriptive of his apotheosis and the fate of the conspirators who slew him I represented the World newspaper at Washington during the whole of those exciting weeks and wrote their occurrences fresh from the mouths of the actors Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1865 By DICK FITZGERALD In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York
