The Litvak Legacy:

The Litvak Legacy Mark N. Ozer, 2009 Between the 1880s and the 1920s a million Litvak Jews migrated throughout the world from Lita their home in the western edge of the Russian Empire This book is the story of the legacy of that migration The questions answered are Where did they come from How did they get to where they are What are some of the lasting values they we share the world over In what way do we differ depending on the countries in which various members of my family have lived One common response in a course based on this material was I now know why my family was the way it was The book will enable you to better know why you are the way you are and enable your children and grandchildren to understand their background It is my thesis that there is a distinctive Litvak cultural heritage that can be traced through the maintenance of that culture through the several generations and the significant impact it has had on the countries in which the immigrants settled The Jewish inhabitants of Lita were called Litvaks Litvakes in Yiddish to distinguish them from non Jewish Lithuanians as well as from other Jews In their home they formed a distinct culture that differed in its variant of their language of Yiddish as well as the character of their religion As followers of the Vilna Gaon in the late 18th century in opposition to the spread of Hassidism Litvaks maintained a unique commitment to rabbinical Judaism and intellectual study They were also unusual in the degree to which arduous and sharp witted Talmudic study was widespread The religious tradition continued to evolve in Lita In response to the challenges of both Hassidism and the Haskalah Enlightenment the ethically oriented musar movement became widespread within the Lithuanian yeshivot Orthodox Judaism evolved out of traditional Judaism However relatively few of the traditionally religious chose to emigrate In the late 19th century particularly centered in Vilna Lita was a major source of the Jewish responses to modernity such as socialism and the recognition of the Yiddish language as well as modern Hebrew and Zionism Lita was the greenhouse of secularism The literary and political responses to the breakdown of the Jewish social structure retained the traditional spirit of intensity and sharp wittedness The quest for bringing about a better world via socialism and Zionism partook of the religious impulse while denying it The language battles between Yiddish and Hebrew were joined to these ideologies The characteristic Litvak intellectual strand was expressed in the flowering of secular literary and historical studies that partook of the intensity previously devoted to the sacred writings As the Russian Empire containing Lita was broken up following World War I its inhabitants found themselves living either in Latvia Poland the Russian and Belorussian Republics of the Soviet Union or in the newly independent Lithuania The entire area now divided had a common cultural entity e that can be called Litvakia When the new boundaries were drawn many of the inhabitants stayed in place and were subject to the Holocaust The Great Migration from Lita occurred in the period of the latter third of the 19th century and in the 20th century prior to the First World War but extended through World War II Even beyond the Holocaust Shoah the few survivors continued to bear witness to its memory Section One deals with the evolution of the core in Lita from 1840 to its destruction during the Shoah Focus is on the relationship between the developments following 1880 and the ideas carried by the emigrants to the Diaspora from Lithuania mainly ending in the 1920s Section Two deals with those ideas carried to the English speaking world and their subsequent evolution mainly in the United States but also in comparison with the United Kingdom Canada and South

Studies in Contemporary Jewry: IV: The Jews and the European Crisis, 1914-1921 Jonathan Frankel, 1988-06-30 Nazism Normalcy and the German Sonderweg by Steven E Aschheim The Hebrew University Signed by author Jewries at the Frontier Sander L. Gilman, Milton Shain, 1999 Traversing far flung Jewish communities in South Africa Australia Texas Brazil China New Zealand Quebec and elsewhere this wide ranging collection explores the notion of frontier in the Jewish experience as a historical geographical reality and a conceptual framework As a compelling alternative to viewing the periphery only as a locus of dispossession and exile from the homeland this work imagines a new Jewish history written as the history of the Jews at the frontier In this new history governed by the dynamics of change confrontation and accommodation marginalized experiences are brought to the center and all participants are given voice By articulating the tension between the center periphery model and the frontier model Jewries at the Frontier shows how the productive confrontation between and among cultures and peoples generates a new multivocal account of Jewish history

Ecologies of Witnessing Hannah Pollin-Galay, 2018-07-31 An innovative reassessment of Holocaust testimony revealing the dramatic ways in which the languages and places of postwar life inform survivor memory This groundbreaking work rethinks conventional wisdom about Holocaust testimony focusing on the power of language and place to shape personal narrative Oral histories of Lithuanian Jews serve as the textual base for this exploration Comparing the remembrances of Holocaust victims who remained in Lithuania with those who resettled in Israel and North America after World War II Pollin Galay reveals meaningful differences based on where survivors chose to live out their postwar lives and whether their language of testimony was Yiddish English or Hebrew The differences between their testimonies relate to notions of love justice community and how the Holocaust did violence to these aspects of the self More than an original presentation of yet unheard stories this book challenges the assumption of a universal vocabulary for describing and healing human pain Eighteen Words to Sustain a Life David Patterson, 2023-06-26 In the Jewish tradition going back to Jacob many fathers have written down whatever wisdom they might have attained in their lives in order to pass along that wisdom to their heirs It is called an ethical will Written as a testimony and a testament in an epistolary format this book is a compendium of the wisdom of a father who has spent a lifetime studying the teachings of the Jewish tradition as well as literary and philosophical traditions of the West The insights taken from those traditions which explore the life of the soul are intended for anyone who has a soul The book is organized around eighteen words that form the foundations of human life The number eighteen is taken from the Hebrew word for life chai which has a numerical value of eighteen Among the words at the heart of these reflections are faith goodness responsibility meaning gratitude prayer love and others

Jewish Affairs ,2005 Lost and Found Aušra Paulauskienė,2007 Ausra Paulauskiene's book Lost and Found The Discovery of Lithuania in American Fiction targets American as well as European scholars in the fields of literature ethnic studies and immigration The author discovers obscure texts on Lithuania and alerts Western and Eastern academia to their significance as well as the reasons for their neglect For the first time Abraham Cahan's autobiography The Education of Abraham Cahan and Ezra Brudno's autobiographical novel The Fugitive receive an extensive coverage while Goldie Stone's My Caravan of Years and Margaret Seebach's That Man Donaleitis receive their first scholarly consideration ever The author argues that misrepresentations misattributions and exclusions of Lithuanian legacy in the U S were produced by major political events of the twentieth century Indigenous Culture and Change in Guerrero, Mexico, 7000 BCE to 1600 CE

Ian Jacobs,2024-04-01 Until recently Guerrero's past has suffered from relative neglect by archaeologists and historians While a number of excellent studies have expanded our knowledge of certain aspects of the region's history or of particular areas or topics the absence of a thorough scholarly overview has left Guerrero's significant contributions to the history of Mesoamerica and colonial Mexico greatly underestimated With Indigenous Culture and Change in Guerrero Mexico 7000 BCE to 1600 CE Ian Jacobs at last puts Guerrero's history firmly on the map of Mexican archaeology and history The book brings together a vast amount of cross disciplinary information to understand the deep roots of the Indigenous cultures of a complex region of Mexico and the forces that shaped the foundations of colonial Mexico in the sixteenth century and beyond This book is particularly significant for its exploration of archaeological Indigenous and historical sources Jewish

Religious Life in Lithuania in the 18th-20th Centuries ,2025-10-30 This volume attempts to address the complicated issue of distinctive characteristics of Jewish religious life in Lithuania Its authors and editors deal with the range of religious expressions with the religious life of different sectors of the Jewish community of Lithuania and with the dynamics of change in religious life in Lithuania over time In this volume Lithuania is more a historical and social concept than a geographical territory with clearly delineated borders and political identity The authors deliberate how Lithuanian are the religious phenomena they discuss and what the historical agents understood as Lithuania in their given period area and historical circumstances Jews and Leftist Politics Jack Jacobs,2017-03-24 The relationships past and present between Jews and the political left remain of abiding interest to both the academic community and the public Jews and Leftist Politics contains new and insightful chapters from world renowned scholars and considers such matters as the political implications of Judaism the relationships of leftists and Jews the histories of Jews on the left in Europe the United States and Israel contemporary anti Zionism the associations between specific Jews and Communist parties and the importance of gendered perspectives It also contains fresh studies of canonical figures including Gershom Scholem Gustav Landauer and Martin Buber and examines the affiliations of Jews to prominent institutions calling into question previous widely held assumptions The volume is characterized by judicious appraisals made by respected authorities and sheds considerable light on contentious themes

The Lost Library Dan Rabinowitz, 2019 The story of the first Jewish public library in Europe Jews and Zionism Gideon Shimoni, 1980 Hollywood's Unofficial Film Corps Michael Berkowitz, 2025-01-14 It has long been known that Hollywood was actively involved in shaping US public opinion during World War II Less well documented are the ways in which Washington sought to work behind the scenes subtly obliterating the boundaries between studio and government films Michael Berkowitz studies the contributions of humorist and best selling author Leo Rosten The Joys of Yiddish The Education of H Y M A N K A P L A N and writer producer and screenwriter Budd Schulberg On the Waterfront A Face in the Crowd in order to examine the elusive story of Jewish Hollywood's role in World War II Hollywood's Unofficial Film Corps shows that Rosten Schulberg and others including Garson Kanin George Cukor Stanley Kramer and Jules Buck created movies that were both entertaining and politically expeditious for US war aims At the same time in an effort to unify the American public they avoided focusing on the fate of European Jews even while addressing racism and antisemitism in the United States Jewish themes were often downplayed and Jewish directors writers and other contributors frequently went uncredited As Berkowitz writes Rosten's cohort changed feature films forever Thanks to his research we now have a better understanding of how and why The Jewish Journal of Sociology ,1962 South African Jewry ,1965 South African Jewry Leon Feldberg, 1965 Ultimate Visions Martin Forward, 1995 A compelling collection of essays by leading theologians who explore the reasons for their commitment to a particular religion
