The Far Edges of the Known World Owen Rees, 2025-09-30 A revisionist history of the ancient world that shifts our focus from Athens and Rome to the long ignored societies on the borders When Ovid was exiled from Rome to a border town on the Black Sea he despaired at his bleak and barbarous new surroundings Like many Greeks and Romans Ovid thought the outer reaches of his world was where civilization ceased to exist Our own fascination with the Greek and Roman world has for centuries followed this perspective shrouding cultures at the far reaches of their influence in myth But what was it like to live on the edges of these empires on the boundaries of the known world In The Far Edges of the Known World ancient historian Owen Rees draws on archaeological excavations to reveal these so called borders as thriving multicultural spaces This is where the boundaries of civilized and barbarian began to dissipate where traditional rules didn't always apply where different cultures intermarried and where nomadic tribes built their own cities Transporting readers through historical spheres of influence Rees journeys from the sandy caravan routes of Morocco to the freezing winters of the northern Black Sea from the Red River valley of Vietnam to the rain lashed forts south of Hadrian's Wall Beyond well remembered figures like Cleopatra and Caesar Rees introduces us to the everyday people who called the borderlands home We meet an enterprising sex worker in Egypt's Naucratis gambling soldiers at Hadrian's Wall in England a Greco Buddhist monk hailing from the Ganges and more As Rees shows exchanges of trends ideas even religious practices were happening all over the world The Far Edges of the Known World offers us a vibrant new lens to see and understand the ancient world

Poems of the Known World William Kistler, 1995 Poems of the Known World come to us from the paradoxes and harsh juxtapositions of late 20th century life the unkempt homeless sleeping beside a smoothness of marble cut from mountains they will never see and used as the facings of buildings they will almost never enter male and female reaching toward union while memories of the brutality of war pass between them the recognition by a market futures trader that his life is as vulnerable and circumscribed as that of a frog he had dissected as a student years before Kistler is sometimes likened to Wallace Stevens because of his careers in both poetry and business His concerns however are both contemplative and activist He has looked at the structures of late 20th century society and understood their effects on our lives His language and his imagery are at times harsh at times lyrical they open new shapes of understanding These poems resonate with the experiences of an intense life A fierce seeking is here joined with an expansive heart
