Additional Help

This section is just to help you with a few ideas to consider while editing and updating the sections we have highlighted in the Dashboard.

Selecting categories

We suggest you do a bit of planning before you choose your categories. Try to settle on a set amount of topics to use a categories, no more than 5 - 10. If you need more place them in sub-categories under the 5 - 10 main ones you have created. Be sure to make them relevant to what you are writing about. For example a Blog about "Traveling" may select categories like Countries, Natural Wonders, Holiday Destinations, etc., all keywords people search for.

Selecting tags

Like the categories dont go crazy with hundreds of tags try to use the same tags regularly and limit your self to 3-5 per post. As a rule always try to select previously imputed tags before making new ones or if there is a tag that doesnt cover the keyword you looking for.

Writing Posts

The idea here is to create a standard easy to read look for your readers

Title - Always use keywords relevant to your categories in your titles.

Layout - When writing a post try to make it easier for the reader by breaking up the post into sections with headers to divide the sections.

Intro - Write an eye catching opening paragraph to your post with a good image to get the readers attention.

Images - Try to resize images to be a standard height and width.

More - Insert the more in the wysiwyg editing bar after the introduction to show more posts on your front page make the post like a teaser.

Conclusion - Close your post with a strong ending. encourage readers by closing with a question or ask them to comment and share thoughts.
