EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE

Temperature Changes

Let's explore how temperatures change as we move through the Earth's atmosphere layers. Understanding these temperature variations helps us appreciate the complexity of our atmosphere.

Troposphere: The troposphere is the layer closest to the Earth's surface, and it's where all our weather happens. As you go higher in the troposphere, the temperature decreases. It gets cooler as you climb.

Stratosphere: Just above the troposphere, in the stratosphere, something interesting happens. The temperature starts to increase as you move higher up. This warming is due to the presence of the ozone layer, which absorbs UV radiation from the Sun.

Mesosphere: As you continue upwards into the mesosphere, the temperature starts to drop again. It's super cold up here, and meteors burn up in this layer. The temperature decreases with altitude.

Thermosphere: Moving higher to the thermosphere, temperatures start to rise again. Despite its name, the air is so thin here that it wouldn't feel warm to us. The temperature increases with altitude due to the absorption of solar radiation.

Exosphere: Finally, in the exosphere, temperatures drop once more. This is the outermost layer of the atmosphere, and it gradually merges with space. It's very cold up here.
