

When the film 'Stand By Me' opens we see the writer sitting in his car, looking out over the fields. As he sits there he remembers an episode from his youth, a time when he and three of his friends set out to look for a dead body. Obviously the hunt for the dead body is a strange experience from his past. But what other reasons do you think there might be for the writer to remember this particular experience?

Your work on 'Stand By Me' will look at the reasons why we remember certain aspects of our past and also how we might present them. In the film we are presented a picture of a group of teenagers which has been constructed by adults. We might ask how different a picture would have been created by a group of 12 year olds. Even at the age of fifteen and sixteen our view of our earlier years is probably different to the way that we saw it as we lived it. At times we find it very difficult to explain things that we are experiencing at the moment whereas things from the past are more easily put into words.

STAND BY ME

FRIENDSHIP

'Stand By Me' is about friendship, the friendship between a group of boys and in particular two of them, Gordie and Chris.

Yet the four boys seem a mixed bunch with very little in common when it comes to backgrounds. What do you think it is that binds the four of them together? At times they seem to hate each other, throwing insults around whilst later making it up. Try to give some reasons for them being friends.
