Statistical Analysis and Data Display Richard M. Heiberger, Burt Holland, 2013-06-29 1 Audience Students seeking master's degrees in applied statistics in the late 1960s and 1970s typically took a year long sequence in statistical methods Popular choices of the course text book in that period prior to the availability of high speed computing and graphics capability were those authored by Snedecor and Cochran and Steel and Torrie By 1980 the topical coverage in these classics failed to include a great many new and important elementary techniques in the data analyst's toolkit In order to teach the statistical methods sequence with adequate coverage of topics it became necessary to draw material from each of four or five text sources Obviously such a situation makes life difficult for both students and instructors In addition statistics students need to become proficient with at least one high quality statistical software package This book can serve as a standalone text for a contemporary year long course in statistical methods at a level appropriate for statistics majors at the master's level or other quantitatively oriented disciplines at the doctoral level The topics include both concepts and techniques developed many years ago and a variety of newer tools not commonly found in textbooks

International Technical Conference on Experimental Safety Vehicles. Thirteenth. Proceedings. Volume II., 1993 Steiner Trees in Industry Xiuzhen Cheng, Ding-Zhu Du, 2013-12-01 This book is a collection of articles studying various Steiner tree problems with applications in industries such as the design of electronic circuits computer networking telecommunication and perfect phylogeny The Steiner tree problem was initiated in the Euclidean plane Given a set of points in the Euclidean plane the shortest network interconnecting the points in the set is called the Steiner minimum tree The Steiner minimum tree may contain some vertices which are not the given points Those vertices are called Steiner points while the given points are called terminals The shortest network for three terminals was first studied by Fermat 1601-1665 Fermat proposed the problem of finding a point to minimize the total distance from it to three terminals in the Euclidean plane The direct generalization is to find a point to minimize the total distance from it to n terminals which is still called the Fermat problem today The Steiner minimum tree problem is an indirect generalization Schreiber in 1986 found that this generalization i.e. the Steiner minimum tree was first proposed by Gauss

American Environmentalism J. Michael Martinez, 2013-06-20 Protecting the natural environment and promoting sustainability have become important objectives but achieving such goals presents myriad challenges for even the most committed environmentalist American Environmentalism Philosophy History and Public Policy examines whether competing interests can be reconciled while developing consistent coherent effective public policy to regulate uses and protection of the natural environment without destroying the national economy It then reviews a range of possible solutions The book delves into key normative concepts that undergird American perspectives on nature by providing an overview of philosophical concepts found in the western intellectual tradition the presuppositions inherent in neoclassical economics and anthropocentric human centered and biocentric earth centered positions on sustainability It traces the evolution of attitudes about nature from the time of the Ancient Greeks through Europeans in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance the Enlightenment and the American Founders the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and up to the present Building on this foundation the author examines the political landscape as non governmental organizations NGOs industry leaders and government officials struggle to balance industrial development with environmental concerns Outrageous claims silly misrepresentations bogus arguments absurd contentions and overblown prophesies of impending calamities are bandied about by many parties on all sides of the debate industry spokespeople elected representatives unelected regulators concerned citizens and environmental NGOs alike In lieu of descending into this morass the author circumvents the silliness to explore the crucial issues through a more focused disciplined approach Rather than engage in acrimonious debate over minutiae as so often occurs in the context of green claims he recasts the issue in a way that provides a cohesive look at all sides This effort may be quixotic but how else to cut the Gordian knot

Studia Psychologica, 1971 Palm of the Rainforest Ikénnà Nn?l?, 2020-08-28 I know who I am Kelvin seemed desperate to win his father's approval However Mr Eze not only seemed unwilling to bestow it but hell bent in making life unbearable for his acclaimed son Kelvin thought it would be best to find his true family rather than endure the torture of being the unwanted child He realised that his quest for recognition was unlikely to succeed so he set his eyes on freedom In the meantime Kelvin expected that a good academic performance would change his luck and put him right with Mr Eze or at least boost his confidence in his abilities With all his attention on his studies competing for the best grades against the leading brains in his class especially Christian an indomitable rival he would not let school romance get in the way fo his goal But slowly and steadily Chioma gained his trust and won him over He would have to make a decision between holding on to his moral principle or satisfying his human desire for friendship New Home New Identity Marginalised and decimated the Biafran people were forced to go to war and secede from Nigeria But decades after losing the war and embracing the Nigerian identity they are still not treated as equal citizens in their home country As a new wave of terrorism sweeps the northern parts of the country the Biafran people predominantly Igbo are again decimated as they have been for decades in every crises and this led to renewed discussions about their independence For Biafra the fight for equality was over and their Sovereignty was not negotiable For Kelvin it wasn t very different and so his quest for truth and independence must begin His compulsory holiday in Igbo land would expose him to the truth that might have indirectly caused him to abandon his academic pursuit Perhaps it was just an excuse to free himself from the clutch of Mr Eze and begin his quest for the truth about his identity
