Reconceptualizing International Investment Law from the Global South Fabio Morosini, Michelle Ratton Sanchez Badin, 2017-10-26 This book shows how the current reform in investment regulation is part of a broader attempt to transform the international economic order. Countries in the North and South are currently rethinking how economic order should be constituted in order to advance their national interests and preferred economic orientation. While some countries in the North seek to create alternative institutional spaces in order to promote neoliberal policies more effectively, some countries in the South are increasingly skeptical of this version of economic order and are experimenting with alternative versions of legal ordering that do not always sit well with mainstream versions promoted by the North. While we recognize that there are differences in approaches to the investment regimes proposed by countries in the South, we identify commonalities that could function as the founding pillars of an alternative economic order.

Coasts and Estuaries Eric Wolanski, John W. Day, Michael Elliott, Ramachandran Ramesh, 2019-01-24 Coasts and Estuaries: The Future provides valuable information on how we can protect and maintain natural ecological structures while also allowing estuaries to deliver services that produce societal goods and benefits. These issues are addressed through chapters detailing case studies from estuaries and coastal waters worldwide, presenting a full range of natural variability and human pressures. Following this, a series of chapters written by scientific leaders worldwide synthesizes the problems and offers solutions for specific issues graded within the framework of the socio-economic environmental mosaic. These include fisheries, climate change, coastal megacities, evolving human-nature interactions, remediation measures, and integrated coastal management. The problems faced by half of the world living near coasts are truly a worldwide challenge, as well as an opportunity for scientists to study commonalities and differences and provide solutions. This book is centered around the proposed DAPSI W R M framework, where drivers of basic human needs require activities that each produce pressures. The pressures are mechanisms of state change on the natural system and impacts on societal welfare, including well-being. These problems then require responses, which are the solutions relating to governance, socio-economic, and cultural measures. Scharin et al. 2016 covers estuaries and coastal seas worldwide, integrating their commonality, differences, and solutions for sustainability. Includes global case studies from leading worldwide contributors with accompanying boxes highlighting a synopsis about a particular estuary and coastal sea, making all information easy to find. Presents full-color images to aid the reader in a better understanding of details of each case study. Provides a multi-disciplinary approach linking biology, physics, climate, and social sciences.
