Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

No One Left Standing Michele Wages,2016-11-14 Every public school student in the U S will experience various types of testing each year For decades the purpose and quality of such testing the time it takes to administer and take the test and how the data is used are the topic of discussion among students parents educators and policymakers Those supporting the importance of testing assume that more assessment improves student achievement and that the pros of testing outweigh their perceptions of the additional costs Those against excessive testing believe that schools are sacrificing learning time in order to test or prepare for the test They also believe that reduced learning time of non tested subjects occurs and more time is given to those students that are performing right below the proficiency score or bubble kids instead of developing every student s full potential Testing in U S public schools is out of control The stress and pressures for all involved have effects that are not even measurable in most instances Is this really the best thing for our schools Are there alternative measures that may serve our future in a better way Will the rewrite of NCLB be enough
