Faith Makes Us Live Margarita Mooney, 2009-08-10 Margarita Mooney's path breaking book Faith Makes us Live is the first ever comparative study of how religious faith and practice affect immigrant adaptation and assimilation Her imaginative analysis of Haitian immigrants in Miami Montreal and Paris shows how religious faith serves to mediate culturally between immigrants and their host societies but also reveals that by itself faith is not enough to achieve successful integration Host societies must also be receptive to the religious institutions that serve immigrants if integration is to be achieved Her book is essential reading for students of both religion and immigration Douglas S Massey Princeton University Margarita Mooney's research on Haitian Catholic immigrants in three settings is elegant in design assiduous in execution and compelling in presentation Mooney's immigrants bring a deep piety with them across the ocean but the different contexts of reception they encounter in Miami Montreal and Paris significantly influence their differential adaptation to their new homes in the U S Canada and France Faith Makes Us Live is an essential contribution to the growing body of literature on religion and immigration R Stephen Warner University of Illinois at Chicago Faith Makes Us Live is one of those rare books that succeeds in making a valuable contribution on at least three fronts it extends the literature on religion and immigration by showing how religious organizations serve as mediating structures between immigrants and their host communities it demonstrates to scholars interested in faith based service organizations that the larger relationships between church and state must be considered carefully through a comparative framework and it provides students of religion with a compelling up close and personal account of how faith matters in the daily lives of Haitian immigrants Robert Wuthnow Princeton University What excites me most about Faith Makes Us Live is that it analyzes the role played by the Catholic Church in immigrant incorporation while taking into consideration the distinctive challenges met by Haitians in three societies that treat the poor immigrants and people of color quite differently The comparison between Miami Paris and Montreal is particularly felicitous given differences in the position and influence of the Church the characteristics of the Haitian populations and the public resources available to immigrants across these three contexts By showing how religion sustains resilience and empowerment for a particularly vulnerable group of individuals Mooney demonstrates the crucial role of meaning making matters for immigrant incorporation Michele Lamont Harvard University

This book teaches us an important lesson When immigrants are religious and so many are pragmatic cooperation between church and state can hasten their acculturation and improve their well being Faith Makes Us Live is essential reading for those who want to better understand the role of religion and religious institutions in immigrants lives Mark Chaves Duke University An exemplar of theory driven ethnographic research Professor Mooney provides an ambitious comparative study at once rich in detail and grand in scope By systematically comparing three countries on two continents this book uncovers crucial patterns of relationships among church state and civil society and how they affect immigrants on the ground This is what ethnography should be rooted in the lived experience of everyday life and yet motivated by the need to understand human social processes in general Andy Perrin University of North Carolina Thoroughly sociological in design and analysis this study opens new vistas for the field of religion and immigration Leaving behind celebratory or critical accounts of the role of religious beliefs in the adaptation of immigrant minorities Mooney makes clear that processes and outcomes depend on the interaction between religious institutions and the broader socio political context An original contribution made even more valuable by its focus on one of the most downtrodden groups in the migrant world Alejandro Portes Princeton University

British Waterways Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee,2008 In its 7th report of session 2006 07 HC 345 I ISBN 9780215521330 on British Waterways BW the Committee pressed for adequate funding of the waterways network and expressed concern at the poor relations that existed at the time between the Department for Environment Food and Rural Affairs Defra and BW This further report was prompted by BW s decision in February 2008 to withdraw from the partnership to restore the Cotswold Canals in order to fund urgent repairs to the Monmouthshire and Brecon Canal The report focuses on BW s regeneration and restoration work but also looks at how Defra and BW are working together and the Committee is encouraged by an improvement in the relationship and communication between the two bodies Restoration of canals produces little if any direct benefit to BW and BW has often carried all the financial risk in such projects Canal restoration schemes can be of great value to the areas where the canals are restored producing knock on benefits such as more jobs and visitor income The BW Board is charged primarily with maintaining the existing waterways network and cannot be expected to take on substantial risk from restoration projects especially in present economic conditions If the public sector wishes to obtain external benefits from canal restoration schemes the bodies responsible for obtaining those benefits should bear the risk Defra with British Waterways and other interested bodies should develop a mechanism to score and prioritise public investment in canal restoration according to the external benefits that would be created and should agree how the financial risks of such projects should be borne
