Individuals in Time María J. Arche, 2006-01-01 This monograph investigates the temporal properties of those predicates referring to individuals the so called individual level IL predicates in contrast to those known as stage level SL predicates Many of the traditional tenets attributed to the IL SL dichotomy are not solidly founded this book claims as it examines current theoretical issues concerning the syntax semantics interface such as the relation between semantic properties of predicates and their syntactic structure By using the contrast found in Spanish copular clauses ser vs estar Individuals in Time shows that the conception of IL predicates as permanent and stative cannot be maintained The existence of nonstative IL predicates is demonstrated through analyzing the correlation between the syntactic presence of certain projections specifically prepositional complements and process like aspect properties This detailed examination of IL predicates in the domains of inner aspect outer aspect and tense will be welcomed by scholars and students with an interest in event structure tense and aspect
