The Soul of A New Machine Tracy Kidder, 2011-08-23 Tracy Kidder's riveting Washington Post story of one company's efforts to bring a new microcomputer to market won both the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award and has become essential reading for understanding the history of the American tech industry. Computers have changed since 1981 when The Soul of a New Machine first examined the culture of the computer revolution. What has not changed is the feverish pace of the high tech industry the go for broke approach to business that has caused so many computer companies to win big or go belly up and the cult of pursuing mind bending technological innovations. The Soul of a New Machine is an essential chapter in the history of the machine that revolutionized the world in the twentieth century. Fascinating. A surprisingly gripping account of people at work. Wall Street Journal

Constructing Rhetorical Education Davida Charney, Wilma R. Ebbitt, 1992 In nineteen essays illustrating its many aspects this book offers an argument for what it takes to construct a complete rhetorical education. The editors take an approach that is pragmatic and pluralistic based as it is on the assumptions that a rhetorical education is not limited to teaching freshman composition or any specific writing course and that the contexts in which such an education occurs are not limited to classrooms. This thought provoking volume stresses that while a rhetorical education results in the growth of writing skills its larger goal is to foster critical thinking
