

CHAPTER 1

THE INVESTMENT SETTING

Answers to Questions

1. When an individual's current money income exceeds his current consumption desires, he saves the excess. Rather than keep these savings in his possession, the individual may consider it worthwhile to forego immediate possession of the money for a larger future amount of consumption. This trade-off of present consumption for a higher level of future consumption is the essence of investment.

An investment is the current commitment of funds for a period of time in order to derive a future flow of funds that will compensate the investor for the time value of money, the expected rate of inflation over the life of the investment, and provide a premium for the uncertainty associated with this future flow of funds.

2. Students in general tend to be borrowers because they are typically not employed so have no income, but obviously consume and have expenses. The usual intent is to invest the money borrowed in order to increase their future income stream from employment - i.e., students expect to receive a better job and higher income due to their investment in education.
3. In the 20-30 year-old segment an individual would tend to be a net borrower since he is in a relatively low-income bracket and has several expenditures - automobile, durable goods, etc. In the 30-40 year-old segment again the individual would likely dissave, or borrow, since his expenditures would increase with the advent of family life, and conceivably, the purchase of a house. In the 40-50 year-old segment, the individual would probably be a saver since income would have increased substantially with no increase in expenditures. Between the ages of 50 and 60 the individual would typically be a strong saver since income would continue to increase and by now the couple would be "empty-nesters." After this, depending upon when the individual retires, the individual would probably be a dissaver as income decreases (transition from regular income to income from a pension).
4. The saving-borrowing pattern would vary by profession to the extent that compensation patterns vary by profession. For most white-collar professions (e.g., lawyers) income would tend to increase with age. Thus, lawyers would tend to be borrowers in the early segments (when income is low) and savers later in life. Alternatively, blue-collar professions (e.g., plumbers), where skill is often physical, compensation tends to remain constant or decline with age. Thus, plumbers would tend to be savers in the early segments and dissavers later (when their income declines).
5. The difference is because of the definition and measurement of return. In the case of the WSJ, they are only referring to the current dividend yield on common stocks versus the promised yield on bonds. In the University of Chicago studies, they are talking about the

Measuring Market Risk with Value at Risk Pietro Penza, Vipul K. Bansal, 2001 This book Measuring Market Risk with Value at Risk by Vipul Bansal and Pietro Penza has three advantages over earlier works on the subject First it takes a decidedly global approach an essential ingredient for any comprehensive work on market risk Second it ties the scientifically grounded yet intuitively appealing VaR measure to earlier more idiosyncratic measures of market risk that are used in specific market environments e.g. duration in fixed income Finally it encompasses all of the accepted approaches to calculating a VaR measure and presents them in a clearly explained fashion with supporting illustrations and completely worked out

Insurance-Linked Securities: Risk and Pricing Analysis Thomas Nowak, 2014-09-25 Unter Insurance Linked Securities ILS versteht man innovative Finanzprodukte welche Versicherungsrisiken aus den eng abgegrenzten Märkten der Erst- und Rückversicherungs- und Versicherungswirtschaft herauslösen und mittels Verbriefung auf Kapitalmärkten handelbar machen. Durch ILS erhalten Investoren die Möglichkeit für die Bereitstellung von Deckungskapital in Versicherungsrisiken zu investieren und im Gegenzug eine Versicherungsprämie zu erhalten. Hierbei verfolgt das Werk zwei Ziele. Zum Einen die Durchführung einer genauen Analyse der zugrunde liegenden Zahlungsstruktur der beworbenen Eigenschaften und jener Risiken welche mit einer Investition in ILS verbunden sind. Zum Anderen die Überprüfung der Anwendbarkeit und Passgenauigkeit vorgeschlagener versicherungsmathematischer und marktorientierter Bewertungsverfahren für ILS sowie die Unterbreitung möglicher Vorschläge für Bewertungsverfahren. Da ILS regelmäßig dazu verwendet werden Extremrisiken zu verbrieft werden beide Untersuchungen unter expliziter Berücksichtigung der statistischen Eigenschaften von Extremrisiken durchgeführt. Im Ergebnis lässt sich festhalten dass ILS Investitionen mit eigenen Spezifika darstellen. Investoren sollten diese kennen und berücksichtigen. Dies gilt gerade vor dem Hintergrund der stetig steigenden Zahl von ILS welche insbesondere in den Zeiten der Niedrigzinsphase als attraktives Investment gesehen werden. Das Buch richtet sich an Investoren und Interessierte die sich über ILS als Investitionen und deren Bewertung informieren möchten. Solutions Manual Frank K. Reilly, Keith Brown, 2003
