Tom Tom User Manual:

Persuasion in Specialised Discourses Olga Dontcheva-Navratilova, Martin Adam, Renata Povolná, Radek Vogel, 2020-12-10
This book examines the concept of persuasion in written texts for specialist audiences in the English and Czech languages. By exploring a corpus of academic research articles, corporate reports, religious sermons, and user manuals, the authors aim to reveal similarities and differences in rhetorical strategies across cultures and genres. They draw on Biber and Conrad's 2009 model for contextualising interaction in specialised discourses, Bell's 1997 framework for the analysis of participants' roles, Swales' 1990 genre analysis approach for considering genre constraints, and Hyland's 2005 metadiscourse model for investigating writer-reader interaction. The result is a book which will appeal to researchers and students in Discourse Studies, especially those with an interest in genre and rhetorical strategies. Robert walked towards the hospital emergency entrance. The smell of death was overpowering. Many of the cars blocking the ambulance entrance had their lifeless occupants slumped over the steering wheels or their heads propped against the car windows. The sliding doors were propped open by more bodies of virus casualties. Robert looked deeper into the dark hospital and turned around. The hospital was not receiving more patients. Jillian stared over the city of Hong Kong from the eighteenth floor of the luxury hotel. Although it was the middle of the day, the entire city was dead. Not a car, boat, or person was moving. The hotel had no water, phone, or electricity. Despair washed over her as she thought of her children She prayed that her two boys survived the virus The problem was that they were a very large ocean away Adapting to the new world was difficult Finding and protecting your family was an even greater challenge
