Metalloprotein Active Site Assembly Michael K. Johnson, Robert A. Scott, 2017-08-30 Summarizes the essential biosynthetic pathways for assembly of metal cofactor sites in functional metalloproteins Metalloprotein Active Site Assembly focuses on the processes that have evolved to orchestrate the assembly of metal cofactor sites in functional metalloproteins It goes beyond the simple incorporation of single metal ions in a protein framework and includes metal cluster assembly metal cofactor biosynthesis and insertion and metal based post translational modifications of the protein environments that are necessary for function Several examples of each of these areas have now been identified and studied the current volume provides the current state of the art understanding of the

Transcriptional Regulation in Cancers and Metabolic Diseases Wen Zhou, Carol Prives, 2015-12-04 The transcription factor TF mediated regulation of gene expression is a process fundamental to all biological and physiological processes Genetic changes and epigenetic modifications of TFs affect target gene expression during the formation of malignant cells Extensive work has been done on the critical TFs in various disease models Despite the success of numerous TF targeted therapies there remain significant hurdles understanding the mechanisms transcriptional targets and networks of physiologic pathways that govern TF action This effort is now beginning to produce exciting new avenues of research A clinically relevant topic for genetic change of TF is the mutant isoforms of p53 the most famous tumor suppressor The p53 mutations either results in loss of function or acting as dominant negative for wild type protein or gain of function specifically promoting cancer survival The gain of function is achieved by shifting p53 binding partner proteins or changed genomic binding landscape leading to a cancer promoting transcriptome Another example of genetic change of TF causing malignancy is the AML ETO fusion protein in the human t 8 21 leukemia The fusion protein is an active TF and more interestingly new studies link the disease causing role of AML ETO to the unique transcriptome in the hematopoietic stem cells Nuclear receptors NR are a group of ligand dependent TFs governing the expression of genes involved in a broad range of reproductive developmental and metabolic programs Genetic changes and epigenetic modifications of NRs lead to cancers and metabolic diseases Androgen receptor AR estrogen receptor ER and progesterone receptor PR are well studied NRs in prostate breast and endometrial cancers The development in sequencing technology and computational genomics enable us to investigate the transcription programs of these master TFs in an unprecedented level This Research Topic aims to present the most up to date progress in the field of transcription regulation in cancers and metabolic diseases

Lung Inflammation in Health and Disease, Volume II Yong-Xiao Wang,2021-05-21 Lung diseases are leading causes of death and disability globally with about 65 million people suffering from COPD and 334 million from asthma Each year tens of millions of people develop and can die from lung infections such as pneumonia and TB Systemic inflammation may induce and exacerbate local inflammatory diseases in the lungs and local inflammation can in turn cause systemic inflammation There is increasing evidence of the coexistence of systemic and local inflammation in patients suffering from asthma COPD and other lung diseases and the co morbidity of two or more local inflammatory diseases often occurs For example rheumatoid arthritis frequently occurs together with and promotes the development of pulmonary hypertension This co morbidity significantly impacts quality of life and can result in death for some patients Current treatment options for lung disease are neither always effective nor condition specific there is a desperate need for novel therapeutics in the field Additionally the molecular and physiological significance of most major lung diseases is not well understood which further impedes development of new treatments especially in the case of coexistent lung diseases with other inflammatory diseases Great progress has been made in recent years in many areas of the field particularly in understanding the molecular geneses regulatory mechanisms signalling pathways and cellular processes within lung disease as well as basic and clinical technology drug discovery diagnoses treatment options and predictive prognoses This is the first text to aggregate these developments In two comprehensive volumes experts from all over the world present state of the art advances in the study of lung inflammation in health and disease Contributing authors cover well known as well as emerging topics in basic translational and clinical research with the aim of providing researchers clinicians professionals and students with new perspectives and concepts The editors hope these books will also help to direct future research in lung disease and other inflammatory diseases and result in the development of novel therapeutics     Epstein-Barr Virus and Human Disease · 1990

D. V. Ablashi,A. T. Huang,J. S. Pagano,G. R. Pearson,C. S. Yang,2012-12-06 The Epstein Barr virus EBV isolated in 1966 continues to draw worldwide attention as an important human pathogen Its importance is largely related to the continuing accumulation of evidence that implicates EBV as an etiological factor for certain types of human cancer More recent investigations on this virus have focused on the identity of the viral genes responsible for the different disease manifestations observed following viral infection It is hoped that by thorough investigation of this virus clues to how cancer develops from a normal cell will surface In addition many of the gene products are now being exploited for the development of new and more sensitive tests for the diagnosis and clinical management of individuals with EBV associated diseases Thus studies on this virus continue to provide new information of importance to our understanding of the malignant process In an effort to attract both basic and clinical scientists to the same meeting for purposes of scientific exchange and fostering a closer interaction between these individuals a series of international symposia was initiated in 1984 The first meeting was held in Loutraki Greece and was attended by approximately 100 participants The second international symposium was held in St Petersburg Florida in 1986 and was attended by approximately twice as many participants as attended the Loutraki meeting     The Official Railway Guide ,1881     Current Topics in Opioid Research Lawrence Toll,Kelly M.
