

Life Lessons in "Tuesdays with Morrie": Movie Reflection

After I watched "Tuesdays with Morrie", I realized that the movie was about the greatest life lessons that Mitch Albom learned from his old college professor Morrie Schwartz, who was diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's disease. The movie shows the beautiful conversations of Mitch and his favorite professor Morrie, as they talked about life, death, marriage, and family, at their meeting every Tuesdays of the week. Despite the unforgiving illness that Morrie had, his approaching death does not keep him from making a wonderful life for himself and the people close to him.

The movie has a lot of heartwarming life lessons that I had experienced while watching. Learning Morrie's understanding of human relationships, and his positive attitude towards life and even death is intriguing. I cannot believe that a dying person whose days are counted can have such positivity and be optimistic about life. It was like Morrie is giving me advice, while listening to his tales and his philosophy of life. Morrie's is an extremely lovable person, and we all need a person just like him. There are some scenes from the movie which are really meaningful that interests me in many ways. But, I was most touched by the scene when Morrie talks about forgiveness to Mitch. He says:

"Make peace. You need to make peace with yourself."
