

Vitruvian Man Meets the Scientific Method Writing and Testing Appropriate Hypotheses

Leonardo da Vinci's drawing, Vitruvian Man, shows how the proportions of the human body fit perfectly into a circle and a square. This diagram by Leonardo da Vinci is an illustration of "Vitruvian Theory." According to Vitruvian Theory, the dimensions that describe our knowledge (our words) should fit snugly in the square that is our body. In this analogy, you will replace the language of "Vitruvian Theory" with developing appropriate hypothesis Vitruvian Man.

1. Hypotheses are generalizable statements that are all observations or events for scientific purposes. A hypothesis is generally of a test statement. Formulated by prediction with generally scientific or theoretical basis using the logical statement. For example:

- (a) If we use blue and red flower structure is added, after about 2 weeks a flower having white petals will, it will turn.
- (b) If increasing physical activity causes a person to have elevated heart rate, then a subject low-weight individuals of 160 lbs. is 160.

Formulated hypothesis contains a dependent variable independent variable. The independent variable is the one that you change, while dependent variable is the one that you observe and measure or collect data. Formulate a hypothesis that says "If the temperature is decreased then the liquid will turn from liquid to solid." For example, temperature is the independent variable because the temperature is being measured. During the collection process the data is used to check dependent variable stage.

PURPOSE

Students will gain understanding of hypothesis regarding theoretical theory and related phenomena. In that it yields all observations or hypothesis concerning observations, hypothesis and related topics.
