Thrillers, Chillers, and Killers Frank Krutnik, 2025-05-13 Film noir is one of the most exciting and most debated products of studio era Hollywood but did you know that American radio broadcast many programs in the noir vein through the 1940s and 1950s These included adaptations of such well known films as The Maltese Falcon Murder My Sweet and Double Indemnity detective series devoted to the adventures of private eyes Philip Marlowe and Sam Spade and the spine tingling anthology programs Lights Out and Suspense Thrillers Chillers and Killers is the first book to explore in detail noir storytelling on the two media arguing that radio's noir dramas played an important role as a counterpart to influence on or a spin off from the noir films Besides shedding new light on long neglected radio dramas and a medium that was cinema's major rival this scrupulously researched yet accessible study also uses these programs to challenge conventional understandings of the much debated topic of noir

Historical Dictionary of Old Time Radio Robert C. Reinehr, Jon D. Swartz, 2007-11-12 The term Old Time Radio refers to the relatively brief period from 1926 when the National Broadcasting Company first began network broadcasting until approximately 1960 when television became the dominant communication medium in the United States During this time radio was as popular and ubiquitous as television is today It was amazingly varied in the types of programming it offered many characters and programs were so popular that virtually everyone was familiar with them Even today recorded versions of these programs are still extremely popular and widely available both from commercial outlets and from hobbyists Behind the production of these programs was a complex technological and financial infrastructure that had to be developed virtually from scratch in a world unaccustomed to the rapid communication and technological marvels that we take for granted today The Historical Dictionary of Old Time Radio provides essential facts and information on the Golden Age of Radio This is accomplished through the use of a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on the radio networks programs directors producers writers actors radio series and radio stations Entries on your favorite shows The Lone Ranger The Shadow Dragnet and Suspense and actors Bob Hope George Burns Gracie Allen and Edgar Bergen will have you jumping from one entry to the next as you relive old favorites and discover hidden treasures from the Golden Age of Radio

Women Vigilantes and Outlaws in American Popular Media Gregory Bray, Andrew J. Ball, 2025-08-14 This interdisciplinary collection of essays examines how women vigilantes social bandits outlaws and anti heroines were represented in American novels movie serials radio dramas films comics and pulp fiction from the post Civil War era through World War II Demonstrating a broad spectrum of methodological and critical approaches the book includes essays from seasoned as well as emerging scholars The collected essays fill a gap in present popular culture studies and intersect with outlaw studies gender studies feminism historical studies and media archaeology along with citizenship and national identity The volume also considers how representations of women relate to matters of class sexuality and ethnicity By analyzing female outlaws both real and imagined this study highlights the ways that these women have become symbols of justice and social transformation in American cultural memory This book is an ideal resource for researchers and academics in popular culture studies media studies outlaw studies comparative literature and feminist studies as well as historians who focus on media in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries
