Case Studies of Wildlife Ecology and Conservation in India Orus Ilyas, Afifullah Khan, 2022-11-30 This volume brings together a collection of case studies examining wildlife ecology and conservation across India. The book explores and examines a wide range of fauna across different terrains and habitats in India, revealing key issues and concerns for biodiversity conservation with a particular emphasis on the impact of humans and climate change. Case studies are as wide ranging as tigers, leopards, sloth bears, pheasants, insects, and birds across a diverse range of landscapes including forests, wetlands, and nature reserves, and even a university campus. Split into three parts, Part I focuses on how the distribution of animals is influenced by the availability of resources such as food, water, and space. Chapters examine key determinants such as diet and prey and habitat preferences, with habitat loss also being an important factor. In Part II, chapters examine human-wildlife interactions dealing with issues such as the impact of urbanisation, the establishment of nature reserves, and competition for resources. The book concludes with an examination of landscape ecology and conservation, with chapters in Part III focusing on habitat degradation, changes in land use patterns, and ecosystem management. Overall, the volume not only reflects the great breadth and depth of biodiversity in India but offers important insights into the challenges facing biodiversity conservation not only in this region but worldwide. This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of wildlife ecology, conservation biology, biodiversity conservation, and the environmental sciences more broadly.

Learning about Winter with Children's Literature Margaret A. Bryant, Marjorie Keiper, Anne Petit, 2006-06-30 Taking a thematic approach to learning that employs seeing, hearing, reading, and writing, these books outline three four-week cross-curricular units that develop the competencies children need to become fluent, independent readers and writers. While each unit focuses primarily on language, phonic skills, structural analysis, punctuation, capitalization, poetry, and comprehension, they also include math, science, social studies, music, art, and even mini-lessons in French for cross-cultural appreciation. Understanding that student ability levels in younger grades can vary widely, lesson plans are keyed to three types of learners: emerging, typical, and advanced. The series includes three titles that cover fall, spring, and winter, and the books can be used independently or together throughout the school year. Encyclopedia of Mammals, 1997 Detailed articles cover the history, anatomy, feeding habits, social structure, reproduction, territory, and current status of ninety-five mammals around the world.

The Ecology of Tropical East Asia Richard T. Corlett,2019-06-27 Tropical East Asia is home to over one billion people and faces massive human impacts from its rising population and rapid economic growth It has already lost more than half of its forest cover to agriculture and urbanization and has the highest rates of deforestation and logging in the tropics Habitat loss coupled with hunting and the relentless trade in wildlife products threatens all its large and many of its smaller vertebrates Despite these problems the region still supports an estimated 15 25% of global terrestrial biodiversity and a growing environmental awareness means that it is no longer assumed that economic development justifies environmental damage and no longer accepted that this trade off is inevitable Effective conservation action now depends on integrating a clear understanding of the ecological patterns and processes in the region with the varied needs of its human population This third edition continues to provide an overview of the terrestrial ecology of Tropical East Asia from southern China to Indonesia and from Bhutan and Bangladesh to the Ryukyu Islands of Japan It retains the balance between compactness and comprehensiveness of the previous editions and the even handed geographical treatment of the whole region but it updates both the contents and the perspective Approximately one third of the text is new or greatly modified reflecting the explosion of new research in the region in the last few years and the increasing use of new tools particularly from genomics and remote sensing The change in perspective largely reflects the growing realization that we are in a new epoch the Anthropocene in which human activities have at least as large an influence as natural processes and that stopping or reversing ecological change is no longer an option This does not mean that biodiversity conservation is no longer possible or worthwhile but that the biodiverse future we strive for will inevitably be very different from the past The Ecology of Tropical East Asia is an advanced textbook suitable for senior undergraduate and graduate level students taking courses on the terrestrial ecology of the East Asian tropics as well as an authoritative regional reference for professional ecologists conservationists and interested amateurs worldwide Architect ,1916 The Architect and Contract Reporter ,1916
