Prior Knowledge Questions (Do these BEFORE using the Gizmo.)

[Note: The purpose of these questions is to activate prior knowledge and get students thinking. Students are not expected to know the answers to the Prior Knowledge Questions.]

1. Why do we need to eat food?

Answers will vary. Sample answer: Food provides a source of energy and raw materials for growth and development.

2. How do you think our bodies break food down into useful nutrients?

Answers will vary. Sample answer: Teeth chew food into small pieces, which are swallowed and transported to the stomach. Chemicals in the stomach and intestines further break down food into simple nutrients, which are absorbed into blood.

Gizmo Warm-up

The digestive system is a group of organs that does three things:

- First, the digestive system breaks food down into useful nutrients, a process called digestion.
- Next, the nutrients move into the bloodstream, a process called absorption.
- Finally, the leftover waste is removed from the body, a process called elimination.

Mouth/pharynx

The mouth contains teeth, which cut and gr to push food back into the throat, or pharynx

With the Digestive System Gizmo™, you can arrange the organs of the digestive system any way you like. To begin, look at the organs on the Large Organs tab. Place your cursor over each organ to learn more about it.

1. Which organs allow nutrients to be absorbed? Small intestine and large intestine
2. Which organ stores and compacts waste before it is eliminated? Rectum
3. Which two organs help to break food down mechanically? Mouth, stomach

Kasser, 2020-05-14 This book discusses risk management as it applies to problem solving for simple, complex and wicked problems faced by policy creators and implementors, project managers and systems engineers in the context of policies, large engineering projects, LEPs, projects and systems. When applying systems thinking to risk management, it can be seen that risk management applies to almost every action taken in daily life. This book introduces the systems approach of integrating risk management into policy creation and implementation, project management and systems engineering such as the risk framework and the Firm Fixed Price (FFP) contract with penalties and bonuses. Introduces a number of out of the box concepts building on the application of the systems thinking tools in the system thinker's toolbox. Points out that integrating risk management into policy and project management and systems engineering is just good management and engineering.

practice Discusses the flow of risk in a policy from creation through implementation via LEPs and simpler projects identifying where risks arise and where they should be dealt with Presents the risks in the relationship between policy creation implementation project management and systems engineering Discusses risks throughout the policy implementation process and shows how the nature of risks changes from political to financial to technological as implementation proceeds Discusses managing complexity and specifies the minimum number of elements in a system for it to be defined as and managed as complex Points out that in most instances the traditionally ignored major implementation risk is that of poor performance by personnel Shows how to proactively incorporate prevention into planning in order to prevent risks as well as how to mitigate them when they occur
