

Do the right thing - an analysis on theme

"Do the right thing" is a serious social commentary brought to screen by the ever controversial and confrontational writer/director/actor, Spike Lee. The film's title hints toward the fact that it will address certain issues. Indeed, the movie is very thematic in its content and the hot oppressive downtown Brooklyn feuds, ever present in this movie serve as symbolic reminders of the many liberation struggles fought before today. This essay aims to break down "Do the right thing" assessing what its major theme is and how this is communicated through dialogue as well as the directors' use of mise-en-scene, montage and music.

The opening credit sequence is that of a girl performing a modern dance routine to a contemporary - for the eighties - song with the chorus echoing, "fight the powers that be". The girls' dancing comes across as almost angry. It is definitely not graceful or delicate; and the mood her actions portray are much enhanced by the use of disharmonious jump cuts. This intro sets a definite tone for the movie and gives us the viewer an intriguing taste as to what themes the film will explore and confront.

The film is a slice of life movie, revolving around the lives of the inhabitants of a downtown Brooklyn neighbourhood and how they interact with each other in the cultural mixing pot that is their environment. One of the major characters of the movie, the one who it could be argued represents the antagonistic element, is the incredibly hot and oppressive weather. Spike Lee, portrays beautifully the agony experienced by all the inhabitants, at the hands of the heat. The colours are very rich and bright, the people all carry themselves as though it's too hot to breathe, the cooling water and persistence of fans bring the screen to life. Indeed the screen itself seems to steam.

In my opinion the major theme the film explores is questioning the nature of conflict as a viable means to resisting oppression. Having said that, I feel it is important to view the movie as an analogy for either the American civil rights movement or the liberation struggle against apartheid fought here in S.A. In this light the symbols in the movie, through which the filmmaker explores the film's themes become evident.

The hot oppressive heat, which the movie's inhabitants have to contend with symbolises the laws (sticking to the apartheid analogy), which bound and dehumanised the blacks.

Another important symbol that fuels this theme is the role of music in the film, i.e. not only the score, but also the actual environmental music. The one character, throughout the duration of the film walks around with a boom box. And it is almost in his wake that some of the worst conflict in the movie occurs. The only song he plays is the pertinent intro song, shouting, "Fight the power". His first run in is with some Latino looking guys. This conflict is somewhat peaceful as they merely compete to see whose sound system can go the loudest. L
