Zari,2023-12-26 When several of Diamond's people turn up dead things become more complicated when her police contact tells her that her own alter ego Alexis is a person of interest in one of their deaths. It causes her to question which life is real or if it is all her life now. For the past ten years Alexis Fox had been living a double life. She is a successful real estate agent and investor by day and a drug queenpin known as Diamond by night. But everything changes after the murder of her right hand man Hedrick causing her two worlds to collide. As a result she is forced to assume a more hands on role in her illicit side business and for the first time the drug life is beginning to creep into her real life. Consequently her already contentious working relationship with Cynthia the manager at her real estate office becomes antagonistic forcing her to wonder if there is more to it than just jealousy.

The Double Life of Mr. Alfred Burton Edward Phillips Oppenheim,1913 A Cockney clerk eats a bean from the tree of knowledge and becomes a poet

The Double Life of Mr. Alfred Burton Edward Phillips Oppenheim,2010-11-04 Mr Alfred Burton although he was blissfully and completely ignorant of the fact stood at the door of Fate. He was a little out of breath and his silk hat was reclining at the back of his head. In his mouth was a large cigar which he felt certain was going to disagree with him but he smoked it because it had been presented to him a few minutes ago by the client upon whom he was in attendance. He had rather deep set blue eyes which might have been attractive but for a certain keenness in their outlook which was in a sense indicative of the methods and character of the young man himself a pale characterless face a straggling sandy moustache and an earnest not to say convincing manner. He was dressed in such garments as the head clerk of Messrs Waddington Forbes third rate auctioneers and house agents might have been expected to select. He dangled a bunch of keys in his hand. If this house don't suit you sir he declared confidently why there isn't one in the whole west end that will. That's my opinion anyway. There's nothing in our books to compare with it for value and accommodation. We nearly let it last week to Lord Leconside but Her Ladyship she came round with me herself decided that it was just a trifle too large. As a matter of fact sir this energetic young man went on confidentially the governor insisted upon a deposit and it didn't seem to be exactly convenient. It isn't always these people with titles who've got the money. That we find out in our business sir as quickly as anybody. As for the steam heating you were talking about Mr Lynn why that's all very well for New York he continued persuasively but over here the climate doesn't call for it you can take it from me that it doesn't indeed Mr Lynn I have the letting in my hands of as many houses as most people and you can take it from me sir as the direct result of my experience that over here they won't have it won't have it at any price sir. Most unhealthy we find it and always produces a rare crop of colds and coughs unknown to those that are used to an honest coal fire. It's all a matter of climate sir after all isn't it. The young man paused to take breath. His client who had been listening attentively in gloomy but not unappreciative silence removed his cigar from his mouth. He was a middle aged American with a wife and daughters on their way over from New York and his business was to take a house before they arrived. It wasn't a job he liked but he was making the best of it. This young man appealed to his sense of business.
