- Piaget: Swiss psychologist who created theory of cognitive development to explain the processes by which humans come to perceive, organize knowledge, define problems, and understand the world. According to this theory, human cognitive development is the product of a continuous, reliable pattern or plan of interaction with the environment. Humans are a culture. Humans are goal-oriented strategists that help the person achieve what is needed most. There are four key components (constructing an orderly and early world, in which others and their responses are perceived) and cognitive (based on experiences and on mental images, reflecting the person's ability to develop the use of abstract reasoning and symbolism).
- Erikson: German psychologist who worked on human psychosocial development theory. Created 8 stages of life.
- Robert Rorty: Proposed panic stage, calling it both narcissism and development in women. Thought, theory proposed that men experience feelings of inferiority because they cannot give birth to children.
- Western & Eastern: Created another basic distinction, which focuses on personality structure. Begins with non-specific teaching only, leads to genital teaching. Used to measure pleasure without pressure to perform early, or achieve orgasm.
- John Turk and Virginia Johnson: started functional theory. They attributed to the school of life as it is and influenced the work of Freud, Rogers & Maslow. This school was presented in contrast to the dogmatic school of thought (which was previously psychoanalytic).
- Anna Freud: worked on psychology
- Willy Reich: founder of gestalt theory
- Malcolm: founder of object relations theory
- Carl Rogers: founder of client-centered theory
- Freud & Maslow & Rogers: founders of systems theory
- Adlerman: "Father of family therapy." He particularly used a psychoanalytic approach, insight oriented.
- Kate & Whitaker: Communication in family therapy. Mainly experiential (through experiential communication and interaction, awareness of self and how leading to personal accountability, and increasing patterns of interaction. Later focused on communication problems, double blind, family communication is exposed for how problems, and the presence of a practitioner that is therapeutic. Whitaker mostly oriented with awareness and discussed the transference phenomenon. Initially communication family therapy acknowledges that transference has been used provide a foundation for family problems, but they do not try to interpret these factors. Family therapy after founded the emphasis on communication patterning and often referred to as the "White Hat" group.

 Ethics in Philanthropy by David Mutemwa is a tour de force in the realm of philanthropic ethics research as it invites scholars practitioners and policymakers alike to engage in thoughtful dialogue on the ethical imperatives that should guide philanthropic strategies in developing regions particularly in Africa At its apex it contributes toward making aid provision an ethical matter as the author proposes a model for ethical evaluation of philanthropic strategies from an interdisciplinary perspective comprising social work common law and practical theology Besides its significance in the current field of discourse and research this book also exposes the global influence on African regions exerted through some so called international charitable or non governmental organizations NGOs The author employs a combination of Western theories and methodological approaches and traditional African philosophy making it possible to understand the ethical dimensions of philanthropy both in an African context and from a Western perspective This will help charitable organizations to avoid implementing strategies that could be unethical from the local perspective a critical aspect for both local communities and international organizations as it guides them in the best practices to adopt while implementing their projects in African contexts
