

1. The booster inlet check valve closes as a result of no fluid flow entering the booster assembly.
2. The flow switch closes since there is no flow to keep it open. This completes the electric circuit to the electric motor pump mounted on the bottom of the power booster housing.
3. The electric motor pump supplies system fluid at a somewhat lower pressure for power braking assist. Therefore, increased pedal effort is required to stop the grader within a specified distance. The brake system is faulty if the brake warning lamp and alarm energize.
The brake system must be repaired by a qualified service technician. DO NOT drive the grader.
4. The brake master cylinder operates as described in Engine running - normal brake application, above.
