Choreographing Intersubjectivity in Performance Art Victoria Wynne-Jones, 2021-09-29 This book offers new ways of thinking about dance related artworks that have taken place in galleries museums and biennales over the past two decades as part of the choreographic turn It focuses on the concept of intersubjectivity and theorises about what happens when subjects meet within a performance artwork The resulting relations are crucial to instances of performance art in which embodied subjects engage as spectators participants and performers in orchestrated art events Choreographing Intersubjectivity in Performance Art deploys a multi disciplinary approach across dance choreography and evolving manifestations of performance art An innovative overarching concept of choreography sustains the idea that intersubjectivity evolves through places spaces performance and spectatorship Drawing upon international examples the book introduces readers to performance art from the South Pacific and the complexities of de colonising choreography Artists Tino Sehgal Xavier Le Roy Jordan Wolfson Alicia Frankovich and Shigeyuki Kihara are discussed Thinking Through Theatre and Performance Maaïke Bleeker, Adrian Kear, Joe Kelleher, Heike Roms, 2019-02-07 Thinking Through Theatre and Performance presents a bold and innovative approach to the study of theatre and performance Instead of topics genres histories or theories the book starts with the questions that theatre and performance are uniquely capable of asking How does theatre function as a place for seeing and hearing How do not only bodies and voices but also objects and media perform How do memories emotions and ideas continue to do their work when the performance is over And how can theatre and performance intervene in social political and environmental structures and frameworks Written by leading international scholars each chapter of this volume is built around a key performance example and detailed discussions introduce the methodologies and theories that help us understand how these performances are practices of enquiry into the world Thinking through Theatre and Performance is essential for those involved in making enjoying critiquing and studying theatre and will appeal to anyone who is interested in the questions that theatre and performance ask of themselves and of us

Performance and Ethnography Peter Harrop, Dunja Njaradi, 2013-07-16 Performance and Ethnography Dance Drama Music revisits the territory of the performance orientation touching on anthropology dance folklore music and theatre to look for present trends in both the ethnography of performance and performance ethnography One of the main concerns of this volume is with an embodied affective and sensory ethnography that privileges encounters between ethnographer participants and practices as key to understanding and knowledge Another is the extent to which individuals are shaped by their engagement with ethnographic practice in the midst of migration diffusion revival appropriation and commodification of performance A third is the interface of academic disciplines with the idea of performance and the way in which academics and practitioners are drawn to ethnography to better understand negotiate perform and profess their diverse fields Individual chapters include a refreshed interface for performance studies and anthropology through new approaches to ritual a consideration of performance studies through an ethnography of PSi the emplaced body as a tool for ethnographic research somatic practice in dance as a mode of ethnography artisanal musical instrument making as performance the commodification of traditional performance and an introductory overview that reflects shifting ethnographic perspectives on traditional performances

Considering Ethics in Dance, Theatre and Performance Fiona Bannon, 2018-08-01 This book asks important questions about making performance through the means of collaboration and co created practice It argues that we can align ethics and aesthetics with collaborative performance to realise the importance of being in association with one another and being engaged through our shared imaginations Evident in the examples of practice visited in this study is the attention given by a number of practitioners to the development of shared co operative modes of creation Here we can appreciate ethical work as being relational forged in association with the others as we cultivate ideas that matter In looking at a range of work from practitioners including Meg Stuart Rosemary Lee Deufert Philschke and Fevered Sleep Considering Ethics in Dance Theatre and Performance explores ways that we rehearse by attending to ethics aesthetics and co creation In learning to listen to observe to co operate and to negotiate these practitioners reveal the ways that they bring their work into existence through the transmission of shared meaning
