Schiller shows how we get out of this stalemate by evaluating the history of philanthropy from the ideas of St Augustine to the work of LeBron James. She argues philanthropy's contemporary tendency to maintain obscene inequality and reduce every cause to dehumanizing technocratic terms is unacceptable while maintaining an optimism about the soul and potential of philanthropy in principle. For philanthropy to get back to its literal roots, the love of humanity, Schiller argues that philanthropy can no longer be premised around basic survival. Public institutions must assume that burden so that philanthropy can shift its focus to initiatives that allow us to flourish into happier, more fulfilled human beings. Philanthropy has to get out of the business of saving lives if we are to save humanity.
