

Semester Exam Study Guide

This study guide should be used as a supplement to your studying for the Midterm exam. It should not replace going over old notes, quizzes and activities.

1. What is the difference between a scientific theory and a scientific law? (Hint: what do both explain?)

Theory – explains why a scientific event is happening.

Law – describes what is happening in a scientific event.

2. Describe a dependent variable, independent variable, experimental group, and control group. (You may want to use an example like those we covered in class, such as an experiment testing the effects of amount of light on the rate of photosynthesis.)

3. Dependent Variable – the part of the experiment that will be measured (ex. Growth of a plant)

Independent Variable – the part of the experiment that is being changed. This is what you are assuming will affect your dependent variable. (Ex. Amount of plant food)

Experimental Group – The group that you are changing the independent variable with. (Ex. Plants that receive more food grow taller)

Control Group – The group that mimics normal conditions. This group is what you compare your results to so you can see if a change has occurred. (Ex. Plants that receive a normal amount of food.)

4. What is a hypothesis? How do we develop hypotheses?

A hypothesis is an answer to a scientific question. It is developed using research and observations. It is never a guess.

5. What are the 8 characteristics of life?

1. Evolve	2. Composed of Cells	3. Homeostasis	4. Reproduction
5. Heredity	6. Metabolism	7. Responsiveness	8. Growth/Development

6. What characteristics of life do viruses possess? Which ones do they not possess? Are they considered alive?

Possess: Evolve and Heredity

Do Not Possess: All other characteristics (remember they use the host for reproduction and metabolism).

Not considered alive.

7. What type of questions can science answer?

Questions where data can be collected (not opinion/moral questions like is it wrong to steal)

When is Separate Unequal? Ruth Colker,2008-11-17 This book does not start from the premise that separate is inherently unequal Writing from an anti subordination perspective Professor Colker provides a framework for the courts and society to consider what programs or policies are most likely to lead to substantive equality for individuals with disabilities In some contexts she argues for more tolerance of disability specific programs and in other contexts she argues for more disability integrated programs Her highly practical investigation includes the topics of K 12 education higher education employment voting and provision of health care At the end of the book she applies this perspective to the racial arena arguing that school districts should be given latitude to implement more use of racial criteria to attain integrated schools because such environments are most likely to help attain substantive equality from an anti subordination perspective The book measures the attainment of equality not on the basis of worn out mantras but instead on the basis of substantive gains
