Spaces in-between Mark Luccarelli, Sigurd Bergmann, 2015-10-05 Spaces in between goes beyond the emphasis on externalities signalled by the term environment to address the isolation of modern technological culture from nature. Solutions require more than an awareness of natural surroundings and human destructiveness. We think in terms of the re-conceptualization, re-design and re-negotiation of space. The book is concerned with social practices, belief systems, urban designs, the organization and representation of landscapes and modes of living. These aspects of spatiality suggest how to conceive and practice the intermingling of nature and culture and how to develop public commitment to such practices. In the process we show how concern for the environment as an aspect of space helps us to reconceive and reinterpret what it means to be human.

Internet Drama and Mystery Television Series, 1996-2014 Vincent Terrace, 2014-12-30 Created around the world and available only on the Web, internet television series are independently produced, mostly low budget shows that often feature talented but unknown performers. Typically financed through online crowd funding, they are produced with borrowed equipment and volunteer casts and crews, and viewers find them through word of mouth or by chance. The second in a first ever set of books cataloging Internet television series, this volume covers in depth the drama and mystery genres with detailed entries on 405 shows from 1996 through July 2014. In addition to casts, credits and story lines, each entry provides a website commentary and episode descriptions. Index of performers and personnel are included.

Resort Spatiality Zelmarie Cantillon, 2018-10-16 This book theorises resorts as distinct kinds of urban milieux capturing the complexity of destinations famous for sun, sand and sex, mass tourism. Drawing on qualitative field research, participant observation, interviews and photography, the book discusses examples from six international resort destinations spread across four continents: the Gold Coast, Australia; Phuket and Koh Phangan, Thailand; Cancun, Mexico; Miami, USA; and Ibiza, Spain. The book reviews the material and symbolic production of lived spaces in these resorts, considering the mutually constitutive, mutually transformative relations between their spatial formations, built environments, popular imaginaries, representations, narratives of identity, rhythms and the experiences and practices of both tourists and locals. In doing so, it argues for more nuanced ways of conceptualising tourism, globalisation and spatiality, reimagining how these phenomena unfold in lived spaces. Taking a cultural studies approach to urban analysis, the book demonstrates the value in embracing complexity, fluidity, partiality and uncertainty. It will be of interest to students and researchers of tourism, geography, cultural studies, development studies, anthropology and sociology. Focus On: 100 Most Popular French-language Films Wikipedia contributors, Rivermouth Alejandra Oliva, 2024-06-18. A 2023 Indie Next List Pick. A Summer/Fall 2023 Adult Indies Introduce Pick. A 2023 Roxanne Gay Audacious Book Club Pick. Winner of the 2022 Whiting Creative Nonfiction Grant. In this powerful and deeply felt memoir of translation, storytelling and borders, Alejandra Oliva, a Mexican American translator and immigrant justice activist, offers a powerful chronicle of her experience interpreting at the US-Mexico border. In Rivermouth, Oliva focuses on the physical spaces that make up different phases of immigration: looking at how language and opportunity move through each of them, from the river as the waterway that separates the US and Mexico to the table as the place over which Oliva prepares asylum seekers for their Credible Fear Interviews and finally to the wall as the behemoth imposition that runs along America's southernmost border. With lush prose and perceptive insight, Oliva encourages readers to approach the painful questions that this crisis poses with equal parts critique and compassion. By which metrics are we measuring who deserves American citizenship? What is the point of humanitarian systems that distribute aid conditionally? What do we owe to our most disenfranchised? As investigative and analytical as she is meditative and introspective, sharp as she is lyrical and incisive as she is compassionate, seasoned interpreter Alejandra Oliva argues for a better world while guiding us through the suffering that makes the fight necessary and the joy that makes it worth fighting for.
