

Are you tired of wimpy sailplanes that handle only gentle launches without folding a wing? Sick of gliders that can fly only in light wind so they can still make it home? Disgusted by models that shatter a wing on every tip strike landing? Are you ready for a tough bird, one that won't embarrass you at contests?

The Great Planes Model Manufacturing Company (PO Box 788; Urbana, Illinois 61801; 217 367-2069) gives us the Spirit, a kit that is well within the building capabilities of less experienced hobbyists, but also delivers performance that experienced glider pilots and contest flyers want.

Inside the box

The kit includes all the balsa, plywood, hardwood, and hardware needed to build the basic version. Going beyond the basics, some unexpected parts are provided, including a rib alignment gauge, sticklers, a tow hook, a clear canopy, and molded pilot. Careful wood selection, quality machine cutting, and superb die cutting make really top notch parts. The pre-cut shear webs really fit. Those who feel "lite ply" is not strong enough for glider fuselage sides will be pleased to find the kit contains all balsa fuselage sides, doublers and triplers.

The full size, rolled plans are exceptionally clear, comprehensive, and informative. Builders who aren't familiar with terms such as "stringer" or "shear web" need only study the plans to find and identify these parts.

The comprehensive instruction manual takes the builder through the construction process with 40 pages of detailed text supported by 98 photographs and 14 diagrams. It has three view drawings to help plan a color scheme, "Contest Practice Record" forms, plus sections on trimming and test flying, on the theory and practice of thermal hunting, and on slope soaring.

Get it together

The Spirit kit, with its high grade parts, clear plans and outstanding instruction manual is a delight to build. The model is constructed entirely of balsa and plywood using traditional techniques and thick, medium, and thin CyA adhesive for the structure, and epoxy for the rudder and elevator hinges.

The kit provides the builder with options, including spoilers, one- or two-piece wing, and bolt-on versus rubber band wing mount. Instructions are provided for each option, though not all optional materials are included in the kit. My Spirit was built with spoilers set into a one-piece, bolt-on wing.

The fuselage is a long box built up from interlocking balsa sides and doublers with lite ply formers, and the clear instructions make it an easy job to build it straight and strong. Here's a tip: three T-cuts are provided for alternative towhook mounting positions. If you hammer them into the plywood plate at the bottom of the fuselage before the sides are glued in place, you won't risk hitting the fuselage sides with the hammer.

The wings are built up from balsa ribs with basswood spars incorporating a strong shear web system. Balsa sheeting covers the top leading edge of the inner panels (to add strength), but not on the outer panels (to lighten the tips for quicker turning).

The instruction book made building and sheeting the wing so simple, that for once I didn't resort to slow setting carpenter glue and pins to give more time to get it right.

The fin, rudder, and stabilizer are built up from sticks and die-cut parts. Tapered balsa is provided for the elevator. Local artist Sarah Garwood was kind enough to paint the pilot and cockpit.

Wing covering is Top Flite's MonoKote (now distributed by Great Planes Model Manufacturing Company, PO Box 788, Urpanels (above right) are built up from balsa ribs and basswood spars, with pre-shaped leading and trailing edges. Spoiler is optional.

Spirit Glider Manual:

Glider Flight Instructor Manual Francesco Daniele Padovano, 2022-09-16 For decades and in the interests of greater flight safety Competence criteria have been introduced in professional training The results obtained in professional aviation are indisputable and the proposed new paradigm aims to increase the pilot's ability to resolve in particular unfamiliar situations There is no doubt that during soaring the conditions faced are as a general rule highly variable which requires the pilot to be highly adaptable However even though this flying technique is the one that requires the most resilience there is no single criterion in the development of training that would lead the future pilot to develop the necessary skills nor is there a single evaluation criterion that would determine a common standard From my experience in professional teaching in organisations such as CAE the experience as an EASA inspector and my own experience as a gliding instructor I wanted to propose a new way of teaching and above all of assessing a future glider pilot with COMPETENCE criteria in which the elements of CRM and TEM are always present together with the application of KSA In this text I hope that gliding instructors will find a tool for teaching their classes and a greater standardisation as a guide to develop their own Competence Based Training and assessment adapted at the local conditions and gliders The future is not white or black but an infinite scale of greys where different solutions could be proposed successfully By this the list of missions proposed is my personal view adapted to my programs but it does not pretend to be an absolute criterion Hope you will enjoy Happy landings Francesco Padovano

Explanatory diagrams illustrate the text throughout making a complicated subject simple to understand. Having covered the first steps the book progresses to cross country flying and the final section contains exercises that will be found useful for any glider pilot wishing to improve his ability and qualifications. The latest technology such as GPS navigation and instrument systems is covered. Well illustrated with over 300 black white line drawings. Airman's Information Manual, 1970

AF Manual United States. Department of the Air Force, 1966 The SAS Pocket Manual Christopher Westhorp, 2019-06-27 An incredible insight into the origins training and earliest operations of the special service volunteer soldiers who formed the original units of the world's most famous military force. The Special Air Service was the brainchild of Scots Guards officer Lieutenant David Stirling serving with No 8 Commando. He advocated a specially organised specially equipped and specially trained unit dedicated to the unrelenting pursuit of excellence that could act covertly and operate behind enemy lines to gain intelligence destroy enemy aircraft and attack their supply and reinforcement routes. The 1st SAS Regiment was officially designated after successful raids against enemy airfields in the Middle East in 1941 1942. In May 1943 a 2nd SAS Regiment was raised in Algeria and would also serve in Sicily and Italy. SAS troopers were at the forefront of the action on D Day serving behind the enemy lines assisting the French Resistance in diversionary attacks and in support of Allied armies. The SAS served with great distinction through 42 significant actions in Belgium the Netherlands and Germany until the end of the war in Europe. This new addition to this bestselling pocket book series is compiled from wartime and post war memorandums manuals and documents. They include unit after action reports and lecture notes from the centres used to train special services soldiers gathered from the Liddell Hart Military Archive National Archives wartime periodicals and post war memoirs. The book covers training methods weapons handling fieldcraft sabotage training operations in North Africa and the Middle East 1941 1942 Sicily and Italy 1943 and France 1944 1945 Manual of Play William Byron Forbush, 1914

In 1977 Robinson founded TransAfrica the first organization to lobby for the interests of African and Caribbean peoples. TransAfrica was instrumental in the release of Nelson Mandela from prison in South Africa and the reinstatement of President Aristide in Haiti. Robinson's thoughtful and provocative memoir paints a vivid picture of racism in the hallowed halls of Harvard where he went to law school as well as the corridors of power in Washington D C He also recounts in fascinating detail his trips to troubled African and Caribbean nations more than anyone else he has raised awareness of the problems in those countries Defending The Spirit also gives a devastating commentary on America s foreign policy endeavors in African and Caribbean nations and an impassioned call to African Americans for new leadership and activism to fight racism all over the world Manual Training Magazine Charles Alpheus Bennett,William Thomas
